Utah convict, fiancee in suicide try

by PETER GILLINS

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI) — Killer Gary Gilmore, thwarted in his demands to die before a firing squad, and his fiancee, Nicole Barrett, took overdoses of sleeping pills Tuesday in an attempt to carry out a suicide pact.

Gilmore, whose scheduled execution Monday was stayed by Utah's governor, swallowed "10 to 20" Seconal tablets in his state prison cell.

His condition deteriorated late Tuesday, when he was reported in "very serious" condition at the University of Utah medical center with pneumonia in his right lung. A spokesman said he was placed in an oxygen tent and given drugs intravenously to combat it.

Miss Barrett, a 20-year-old divorcee who gulped two vials of sleeping pills and then lay down on a couch in her Springville home clutching a picture of Gilmore to her chest, was in critical and comatose condition.

THE PETITE divorcee and mother of two young children last week told Tamara Smith, a reporter for the Salt Lake City Deseret News, that she intended "to go with" Gilmore when he was executed. She said Gilmore asked her "to go with him."

Both Gilmore and Miss Barrett left notes.

Gilmore's said: "Leave my property to my mother."

Authorities said Miss Barrett left two personal letters "similar to suicide notes" inside sealed envelopes. They did not disclose their details.

The double suicide attempt forced postponement of Gilmore's scheduled Wednesday appearance before the Utah Board of Pardons, which must decide whether to commute his sentence or let the execution go ahead.

A BOARD spokesman said the case probably will be considered on Dec. 8 — two days before a Texas convict who also wants to be executed is scheduled to die in the electric chair.

In a copyrighted story in the Deseret News, Miss Smith said Gilmore's girlfriend said she and the killer talked about suicide extensively and that he gave her strength and helped her overcome her fears of dying.

Miss Barrett had not paid her next month's rent and she had made arrangements for her children to stay with their grandparents, the paper said.

In prison letters to her, Gilmore said he did not feel right about asking her to "come with him" because of the youngsters, aged 2 and 4, the Deseret News reported.

"I love my children very much, but I know I can't give them the kind of life I want them to have," she told the reporter, who notified police of the suicide threats.

State rejects Scarsdale lights a second time

A special streetlighting system selected for the Scarsdale subdivision in Arlington Heights has been rejected by the state for a second time because it does not meet illumination standards.

The mercury-vapor system was requested by the Scarsdale Property Owners Assn. last December and later submitted by the village for state approval. It was rejected by the Illinois Dept. of Transportation in June, but resubmitted by the village in August upon the recommendation of State Rep. Virginia B. Macdonald, R-Arlington Heights.

Approval from IDOT is required before the village can spend motor fuel tax funds on a lighting system replacing Scarsdale's 50-year-old lighting system which requires fuses that have become obsolete. Replacing the system will cost about $30,000.

THE SYSTEM selected by Scarsdale homeowners calls for 175-watt mercury lights with post-top fixtures on concrete poles. The 15-foot high poles are to be 220 feet apart.

The rejection letter from IDOT suggests the poles be taller and equipped with arms to hang the light fixtures over the streets and that wattage be increased.

"Basically, they want higher wattage with the lights over the streets rather than parkways," Allen Sander, village engineer, said.

A meeting with village, IDOT and Scarsdale officials will be scheduled soon to discuss changing the lighting system for the subdivision.

JOHN W. CHAMBERLAIN, president of the Scarsdale Property Owners Assn., was unavailable Tuesday to comment on the state's latest rejection of the proposed lighting plan for the subdivision.

Dist. 23 to vary entrance age?

by SHERYL JEDLINSKI

A policy that would allow Prospect Heights Dist. 23 children to enter kindergarten whenever school officials deem them ready is being studied by district administrators.

Supt. Edward Grodsky and Assistant Supt. Gerald McGovern are researching the pros and cons of a "flexible entrance age" policy and are expected to conclude their study in June.

Under present district policy, students must be 5 years old on or before Dec. 1 of the school year they wish to attend kindergarten. Regardless of age, however, no student is required by state law to attend kindergarten, although school districts are required to offer kindergarten programs.

RESEARCH INTO enrolling kindergartners on the basis of readiness rather than age was prompted by phone calls to administrators from parents who believe their children are academically, emotionally and physically prepared to start school even though they are too young under the district's present policy, Grodsky said.

Board Pres. Melvin Lace said he believes using readiness rather than age as an entrance criteria could be a "viable alternative," but said he wants to be sure early admittance would be a help rather than a hindrance.

"It's a little bit harder on kids than a lot of people realize," he said. "Before we adopt such a policy we want to be sure there are logical reasons for doing so and that it's really going to help children."

Man makes room for moms, told to seek permit

by PAT GERLACH

When his 84-year-old mother broke her hip last winter, Leonard Kramer says a nursing home was out of the question.

"I don't approve of that," he says, "not as long as I can do anything about it."

Besides, his wife's mother already was installed in living quarters he had built in the rear of his home at 415 Pleasant St. in Schaumburg Township. And, out back, there was a sturdy utility shed that was less than five years old.

SO KRAMER, a self-employed foundry worker, got out his tools and spent a few weekends converting the shed into a cottage complete with its own bathroom. Then Kramer, his wife Eileen, their five children and the two live-in grandmas — 84-year-old Josephine Kramer and 72-year-old Susanna Zapfel — settled in to live happily ever after.

Until somebody complained to the Cook County Zoning Board.

It seems that Kramer's three quarter-acre lot is not zoned for

Vote on separatism still on: Quebec's Levesque

MONTREAL (UPI) — Rene Levesque — swept to power as premier-elect of the province of Quebec despite his plan for Quebec's secession from Canada — insisted Tuesday he would move ahead with plans for a referendum on separation.

In London, however, British government officials said a move by Quebec to secede from Canada might take years because it would need an act of the British Parliament and the process would be so long and complicated.

In Ottawa, Canadian Prime Minister Pierre Trudeau warned that Levesque and his victorious Parti Quebecois had received only "a mandate to govern the province and not to separate from the rest of Canada."

STILL INCOMPLETE counting of the vote in Monday's 31st Quebec general election, gave the French-oriented Parti Quebecois 70 seats in the 110-seat provincial assembly. The PQ held only six seats after the last election in 1973.

Liberal Premier Robert Bourassa's party, which took 102 seats three years ago, was chopped to 27 with 11 cabinet ministers defeated, including Bourassa himself. Smaller parties held the remaining seats.

Levesque, in his first policy statement since the vote, promised his party would maintain good relations with the rest of Canada, but stressed it would be on "an equal to equal basis."

"Quebec has turned a page of its history, to begin a new chapter," he said.

THE 54-YEAR-OLD former journalist said he hoped to find "a new type of partnership — better than the one we had."

"We hope to have fresh and good relations with everyone," he said, "especially with our Canadian fellow citizens."

But he said any changes under the PQ government would be carried out with "a sense of perspective."

As for separation, Levesque reiterated his party's commitment to that goal, adding: "But this country of Quebec will only come when an adult society, confident of itself, will have approved it with clear and democratic majority in a referendum, as we have promised."

IN LONDON, British officials noted that Canada's constitution is enshrined in the British North America Act, passed by the British Parliament in 1867, which created the Dominion of Canada. They said it almost certainly would take another act of parliament to change it and would require approval not only of the Canadian government but all other provinces.

Levesque soft-pedalled the separatism issue throughout the campaign on the pledge that he would call a referendum within two years before acting to separate. A former war correspondent, he waged much of his campaign against what he termed Bourassa's mismanagement of the economy, plagued by strikes and more than 10 per cent unemployment.

But his voctory also was aided by the Liberals' loss of their traditional support among English-speaking and ethnic voters who vowed revenge on Bourassa for policies promoting French in work and education. Their vote was influential in 30 constituencies.

Water allocation notice by Dec. 25

The Northwest suburbs should know by Christmas if they will get the Lake Michigan water allocations they have requested. Each of the 196 applicants for lake water will be notified, said Leo Eisel, director of the Illinois Dept. of Transportation's Division of Water Resources. He said, however, requests are greater than the amount of water available to Illinois municipalities, and he anticipates lawsuits to be filed by applicants who are denied a lake water allocation. "I assume we will be sued. We have applications for more than 4,000 cubic feet per second of water and can only allocate 3,200 cubic feet per second. Obviously, somebody is not going to be happy," Eisel said. Two Northwest suburban groups, DAMP and SHARE + 3, have applied for lake water allocations.

Former Rep. Peskin disbarred

Former State Rep. Bernard Peskin, a Democrat from Northbrook, has been disbarred by the Illinois Supreme Court and is waiting to begin a three-year prison term Dec. 1 for his part in a Hoffman Estates bribery scandal. On his motion, Peskin's name was stricken from the list of attorneys allowed to practice in Illinois. He was suspended in 1975 from practicing law following his conviction on charges he passed bribes from Kaufman and Broad Homes Inc. to six village officials. The bribes were offered to influence zoning changes for Kaufman and Broad's Barrington Square development. The six village officials were convicted in 1973 and have served prison sentences or have been paroled. Peskin, 54, served in the Illinois General Assembly from 1958 to 1966.

Flood requests jury trial

John Flood, president of the Combined Counties Police Assn., will appear in Lake County Circuit Court at Waukegan Nov. 30 for a jury trial. Flood, 36, was charged with driving while intoxicated and improper lane usage by Mundelein police who arrested him Oct. 6. He was placed in the police lockup before posting bail. Flood requested the jury trial Tuesday at a preliminary hearing in the Mundelein Branch of the Lake County Circuit Court Tuesday. A former Cook County Sheriff's sergeant, Flood quit the force to build up the police association which includes 50 chapters.

Doctor studies fingerprint clue to heart ailment

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (UPI) — Fingerprints may provide a clue to a common heart condition that can cause chest pain and irregular heart beats, a New York cardiologist said Tuesday.

Dr. Mark H. Swartz of Mount Sinai Hospital said the finding may help doctors spot persons with the problem, called mitral valve prolapse, in which a heart valve fails to close properly. This allows blood to flow in the wrong direction.

Swartz told an American Heart Association meeting that he and his associates found some persons with the valve defect had abnormally high numbers of arching patterns in their fingerprints. An arch is made up of gently curving ridges from one side of the finger to the other without the much more common looping or whorling patterns.

SWARTZ AND HIS associates thought of looking at fingerprints to see if there was an association with the valve problem because there was speculation that the defect is inherited.

The heart is formed during the third and eighth weeks of pregnancy and fingerprint patterns are initiated during the sixth week. Other heart irregularities and other diseases also have been linked to fingerprints.

Because of his finding, Swartz said some genetic or environmental factor may cause the problem, interfering with the orderly fetal development of the mitral valve at the same time it is interfering with fingerprint patterns.

SWARTZ SAID the mitral valve prolapse may exist in as high as 6 to 10 per cent of the general population. He said the condition is more common in women, including many in their 20s. Its symptoms include chest pain, irregular heart rhythms, light headedness and fainting.

The condition was detected in 1887, but was not studied deeply by doctors until about 10 years ago. Before that, Swartz said doctors often missed the condition or diagnosed it as something else.

Swartz said the condition is difficult to treat although drugs do relieve the symptoms to some extent.

The study was begun in response to calls to school officials from parents who believe their children are academically, emotionally and physically prepared to start school, although they are too young under the district's policy.

Doctor studies fingerprint clue to heart ailment

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (UPI) — Fingerprints may provide a clue to a common heart condition that can cause chest pain and irregular heart beats, a New York cardiologist said Tuesday.

Dr. Mark H. Swartz of Mount Sinai Hospital said the finding may help doctors spot persons with the problem, called mitral valve prolapse, in which a heart valve fails to close properly. This allows blood to flow in the wrong direction.

Swartz told an American Heart Association meeting that he and his associates found some persons with the valve defect had abnormally high numbers of arching patterns in their fingerprints. An arch is made up of gently curving ridges from one side of the finger to the other without the much more common looping or whorling patterns.

SWARTZ AND HIS associates thought of looking at fingerprints to see if there was an association with the valve problem because there was speculation that the defect is inherited.

The heart is formed during the third and eighth weeks of pregnancy and fingerprint patterns are initiated during the sixth week. Other heart irregularities and other diseases also have been linked to fingerprints.

Because of his finding, Swartz said some genetic or environmental factor may cause the problem, interfering with the orderly fetal development of the mitral valve at the same time it is interfering with fingerprint patterns.

SWARTZ SAID the mitral valve prolapse may exist in as high as 6 to 10 per cent of the general population. He said the condition is more common in women, including many in their 20s. Its symptoms include chest pain, irregular heart rhythms, light headedness and fainting.

The condition was detected in 1887, but was not studied deeply by doctors until about 10 years ago. Before that, Swartz said doctors often missed the condition or diagnosed it as something else.

Swartz said the condition is difficult to treat although drugs do relieve the symptoms to some extent.

'Documents destroyed'

Panel issues subpoenas on JFK, King murders

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Assassinations Committee Tuesday decided to issue "quite a few" subpoenas for information about the murders of John F. Kennedy and Martin Luther King Jr., Chairman Thomas Downing sa d.

Downing, D-Va., told reporters after a three-hour closed session he would sign the subpoenas immediately.

Both Downing and staff director Richard Sprague declined to say exactly what the subpoenas requested or on whom they would be served. Downing would only say there were "quite a few."

CONSIDERABLE confusion was caused at an open morning session of the committee when staff counsel Robert Ozer said he knew some documents had been destroyed since the panel's formation last September.

Ozer was cut short by Sprague, however, before he could elaborate and the committee went into closed session.

But a panel member told reporters outside the meeting that Ozer apparently was referring to documents held by the Memphis police force in connection with student disorders. A university student had gone to court demanding destruction of files allegedly kept while he was under surveillance.

"We will not discuss what we have information on," Sprague said later.

"Staff investigators were in Memphis . . . On the basis of information coming to our staff, we decided to mount an investigation into whether the information that some information had been destroyed is true and second, if true, if the destroyed documents relate to the work of the committee. We have no way yet to know."

During the morning session, Rep. Henry B. Gonzalez, D-Tex., asked Ozer, "Were any documents destroyed since the committee was constituted?"

"Yes sir," Ozer said. "I believe some documents were destroyed."

AFTER PERSISTENT questioning, Sprague said "They are documents we felt relevant to the investigation of the King assassination and that would have been in the possession of law enforcing agencies." He would not say whether the law enforcement agencies concerned were federal or local.

In September, Memphis Mayor Wyeth Chandler revealed he had ordered the destruction of his police department's domestic intelligence files, some dating back to 1965.

Police Chief W. O. Crumby said they included groups and individuals considered threats to government officials and they would have covered some investigative work dealing with the King assassination. It was not known whether this was the destruction Ozer mentioned.

Xenia found way of life in Scouting

by DIANE MERMIGAS

Xenia Denoyer was proud to have turned many seeds into sunflowers during her 58 years in Girl Scouting.

She was a pioneer of the character-building youth organization who shared her love of nature, lust for life and enthusiasm for helping others with thousands of girls who often grew to womanhood in her midst.

And when she died Friday at the age of 83 from complications following a heart attack she suffered last year, she left behind a legacy for Girl Scouts of all ages to follow.

"Girl Scouting isn't a movement, it's a way of life," the retired Chicago schoolteacher said many times during her volunteer career in the Girl Scouts.

Xenia Denoyer

MRS. DENOYER turned a 100-acre farm she and her husband, Philip, bought in Wheeling in 1934 into a nature preserve for young girls with curious minds.

The couple built a log cabin on the property which was christened "Canterbury." The cabin, with beamed ceilings, hay lofts and a massive stone fireplace, became the regular meeting spot for her Wheeling-Prospect Heights Cadet Troop 263.

Members of the first Girl Scout troop Mrs. Denoyer formed on Chicago's South Side in 1918 recently said the grand old lady knew how to turn long, hot summers into magical, exciting outdoor experiences.

She composed camp songs on the piano, stalked the woods for plant specimens for her nature classes, and proved that arts and crafts were just a matter of "making do" with the materials available.

In a jovial and tender manner, she told everyone she met about her acquaintance with Juliette Low, founder of the Girl Scouts, her former Scouts said.

IT SEEMED generation after generation of Scouts in the Northwest suburbs found Mrs. Denoyer unchanged by the passing of time.

"We called her Peter Pan because she never seemed to grow old," said Ruth Sundin, a member of Mrs. Denoyer's first Scout troop who returned to Chicago in 1968 for a banquet honoring the Scout master's 50th year in Girl Scouts.

Mrs. Denoyer was buried Tuesday in the Girl Scout uniform and old-fashioned hat with brim and bow she had worn all those years. An honor guard of young scouts saluted her contributions while those who gathered uttered words of praise and deep loss.

But, Mrs. Denoyer probably offered her own best epitaph early last week in a message read aloud in her absence at an annual banquet of the Girl Scout Council of Northwest Cook County.

"My most fervent wish is that the dedication, zeal and enthusiasm that have so blessed our efforts in the past will carry our movement to even greater achievement in the years ahead."

Annoying jobless rate doesn't phase unemployed

by KURT BAER

There was little surprise or obvious outrage among the unemployed Tuesday following President-elect Jimmy Carter's prediction that the nation's jobless rate will stay at 5 to 7 per cent in the next four years. The current rate is 7.9 per cent.

Several persons waiting for beneftis in the Illinois Bureau of Employment Security's Mount Prospect office said they were not particularly startled that the unemployment problem apparently is going to stay around for awhile.

"There's always going to be some people unemployed just in transition between jobs. Sometimes I wonder how they arrive at the percentages," said Rob Chapman, Wheeling.

CHAPMAN SAID he voted for Carter because " I was hoping for a change and to get that I felt we had to get Ford out of there." And he said he does not really blame Carter for acknowledging that it may take four years to bring unemployment down to 4 or 4.5 per cent.

"There is always the possibility that he's playing it safe by not promising things he can't fulfill," Chapman said. "Maybe he's just being realistic."

Larry Lichter, Arlington Heights, said he remembers Carter's promises to do something about jobs.

"He ought to do what he can for all the people," Lichter said.

"There's a lot of jobs, but not good jobs. I'm on a waiting list in Chicago to be a cop and going to school in law enforcement. After I make that, unemployment won't matter. I'll be working for the government."

PAT SCHAEFER, Des Plaines, said that more and better jobs are not just the federal government's responsibility. "It's a 50-50 split between government and private business," she said.

Schaefer said that she was not surprsied by Carter's comment.

"I wasn't a supporter of him anyway," she said.

"Unemployment can partly be the government's responsibility, depending on the circumstances. But a lot of it has to do with the individual. Some people just don't want to work.

"Personally, I just don't think it's all that hard to find a job. But I can't say that's the case for everyone."

Nationwide, unemployment is now close to 8 per cent.

IN HIS MONDAY press conference Carter said he thought that figure could be reduced to 4 or 4.5 per cent but "over a fairly long period of time, perhaps two, three or four years."

When he was asked whether that meant the jobless rate would probably stay at betwen 5 and 7 per cent until 1980, Carter answered, "I guess that would be a likely prospect."

One woman in the Mount Prospect office said that she didn't care whether she was part of Carter's 7 per cent or 4 per cent. She only knew that she did not have a job.

"Up until last week I was working and I really didn't pay any attention to unemployment. Now I have my own problems and can't really worry about what Carter might say," she said.

multiple-mother housing. So the zoning board, perhaps a little confused about which mother belonged to whom, has ordered Kramer to apply for "a special-use permit for a unique use — attached quarters for a mother-in-law and detached quarters for another mother-in-law."

Kramer doesn't know who called the county. "I can't complain about it," he says. "What the hell, the law's the law. I just did it for my mother, she needed a place to stay."

"I just don't understand," says Eileen Kramer. "Our mothers are both widows, they're up in years, and we're making homes for them. It's as simple as that. We didn't get any permits because we didn't think we needed to."

THE FOLKS IN THE main house confess to being a little nervous about the impending zoning board hearing. But, back in the mothers' quarters, it's business as usual.

Glancing around the large room with a compact kitchen area at one end, the 72-year-old Mrs. Zapfel says, "There's no place like home." The room is filled with her treasured furnishings, like the large oak bed with its stark white spread, that hold precious memories.

A few steps away, Mrs. Kramer mentally rearranges the living room of her neat-as-a-pin cottage as she prepares lunch at the small range opposite a window bright with new blue and white curtains. "I'm not altogether settled yet," she says. "I want to move that couch, it's too close to the door and unhandy."

The mothers obviously enjoy each other's company. "We visit each other every day without fail," Mrs. Kramer smiled. "It's so nice to have the companionship. We think alike about so many things."

AND MRS. ZAPFEL says she enjoys the Kramer children, but when she gets tired or "we have an argument, I can go home and close my door."

Though she has spent winters in Florida for several years, Mrs. Zapfel said she plans to "stay home" with the family this year. "I'm getting old and kind of tired," she said.

"They are good friends," Eileen said, saying that the two older women spend some time "talking about us, too. But that's all part of family living."

Legislature opens with routine chores

The first day of the Illinois General Assembly's fall veto session probably will deal only with routine houskeeping chores, legislative leaders indicated Tuesday. House Speaker William Redmond, D-Bensenville, said he hopes lawmakers who want to override Gov. Daniel Walker's vetoes will file motions as soon as the session opens at 4 p.m. Wednesday. "THAT WAY, THE BILLS TO sion opens at 4 p.m. Wednesday. "That way, the bills to be overridden can appear on the calendar Thursday and we can be ready for a full day of work," Rdmond said. "I don't think we'll do much Wednesday, though."

A spokesman for Senate President Cecil Partee, D-Chicago, said he expects the Senate will do little besides accept override motions. Redmond and Partee have scheduled only two working days, Wednesday and Thursday, before Thanksgiving. A bill to reinstate the death penalty will be discussed sometime during the veto session, expected to last about a month.

Firemen fail to reach accord

Powerbrokers for both sides in the Sringfield firemen's strike met all afternoon Tuesday in a judge's chambers but emerged without agreeing to resume formal negotiations. Mayor William Telford said the city made a number of concessions but "our position is the firemen should return to work and then we will negotiate a contract." One major topic of discussion at the meeting was "amnesty" for the strikers.

Telford said the city agreed no further action would be taken against the four jailed leaders of the walkout once they complete the 30-day prison terms imposed by a judge. But Telford said the city will impose suspensions of up to three days on firemen who walked off their jobs when the strike began last Thursday, leaving the city "in a terrible mess."

$700,000 budgeted for MSD penalties

The Chicago Metropolitan Sanitary District has budgeted $700,000 for penalties it may have to pay the Ingram Barge Co. in liquidating its controversial sludge hauling contract. But, an official said Tuesday, the $700,000 is "the most pessimistic figure." "We believe the actual figure will be smaller or (there will be) even no payment," said Raymond Rimkus, chief of maintenance and operations for the sanitary district.

Rimkus said $700,000 was the largest amount "that might be designated as liquidated damages against the sanitary district" in winding up its contract with Ingram. The district's multi-million dollar contract with Ingram to haul sludge — treated sewage — to Fulton County in central Illinois has spawned federal indicments against eight persons on charges of paying and accepting kickbacks. The contract expires next year.

Rimkus said the budget also calculated shipping charges "at the most pessimistic rate" since a rate increase is under consideration by the Illinois Commerce Commission. "We fully expect the ICC will not approve such a rate." Ingram is an affiliate of the Ingram Corp., with headquarters in New Orleans and Nashville, Tenn. Two top Ingram officials are among the eight facing federal indictments.

Weigh appeal of veto ruling

An appeal in federal court of Monday's Illinois Supreme Court ruling upholding the Cook County Board's right to strip suburban commissioners of their budget veto is being considered, two suburban commissioners said Tuesday. Carl Hansen of Mount Prospect and Harold Tyrrell of LaGrange Park said they and the four other suburban commissioners will meet with their attorney to decide whether further action is possible in the case. However, the attorney for the Evanston resident, John T. Allen Jr., who originally filed the suit against the rule change, said Tuesday he plans no further action in the case. The six suburban commissioners joined the case after it was filed by Allen.

The state high court Monday ruled the county oard had the right to change from a two-thirds to a simple majority of votes required to approve county budgets and expenditures. The county board changed the rule last October in a straight party line vote which saw the six Republicans from the suburbs out-voted by the 10 Democratic commissioners from Chicago.

Chicago police low on pay scale

Chicago pays the lowest starting police salaries of the nation's six largest cities, a study by two Illinois Institute of Technology professors said Tuesday. The study, presented at a news conference, said while police salaries have risen 30.9 per cent since 1971, the cost of living has jumped 34.8 per cent, reducing a policeman's purchasing power by nearly $2,000. The United Paperworkers International Union sponsored the news conference to say proposed pay raises announced by Mayor Richard J. Daley in his budget Monday would still leave policemen behind 1971 levels.

2 Rhodesians demand end to talks

GENEVA, Switzerland (UPI) — The black nationalist "Patriotic Front" called Tuesday for an end to the Rhodesia peace conference, deadlocked on demands to set a date for black-rule independence in the former British colony.

Conference chairman Ivor Richard said the demands for deadlines by Joshua Nkomo and Robert Mugabe were "unreasonable." Dropping the independence date issue, he resumed behind-the-scenes talks with other delegates on the mixed race interim government that will run Rhodesia during the transition to majority rule.

Nkomo and Mugabe "totally rejected" Richard's efforts at compromise during the conference's 12-minute general session, and they charged Britain had acted in bad faith.

"IT HAS BECOME obvious to us that the British government has no intention to transfer power to the true representatives of the people of Aimbabwe (Rhodesia)," they said in a joint statement

"There has to be a definite and ceiling date for independence . . . To enusre that this date cannot be sabotaged we call on the chairman to fix here and now a deadline for the concluson of this conference."

Nkomo and Mugabe sidestepped questions whether they would walk out of the confernce if their demands are ignored.

"There is no question of anybody leaving," Richard commented, but he has said the talks could continue if the two nationalists leave.

In Rhodesia, meantime, a communique reported 29 black guerrillas killed in the past 24 hours, bringing to 140 the number killed in the past two weeks — the highest death toll since the border war began nearly four years ago.

Beirut streets returned to normal

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) — Syrian soldiers, the first occupation force in Beirut since U.S. Marines stormed ashore 18 years ago, Tuesday occupied radio and television stations, government ministries and utility offices in a sweep through the war-ravaged capital to restore order.

The Syrian forces set up 52 checkpoints around the capital and formed an antikidnaping squad to smash the reign of terror that has ruled the streets of Beirut for 19 months of Christian-Moslem civil war.

All members of the police forces and government administrations were ordered to report to work by Nov. 26.

The deadly sounds of war which reverberated through the capital for 581 days were replaced by the cacophony of life-car horns, the cry of street vendors, people talking.

Thousands of Beirut residents swarmed Hamra Street, the once fashionble main artery of what was once known as the Paris of the Middle East, exulted in the silence of guns. Fruit sellers set up stalls and cars choked the street now pockmarked with mortar and shell holes.

The Syrian forces, aided by a small contigent of other Arab troops under the aegis of the Arab League, marched into Beirut Monday to separate the warring factions.

SELECTING THE Thanksgiving turkey from the available supply should be a snap for most housewives compared to the choices available to John Stigall of Kilbourne, Ill. Manager of a turkey farm of nearly 20,000 birds, Stigall indicated the price per pound to the consumer should make purchasing the holiday meat a bargain.

Judge doesn't spare the rod on troublesome kids

by JOHN LAMPINEN

There were six youngsters in the courtroom when the woman approached the bench.

She wanted to speak on behalf of her son, who was charged with vandalism. But when she started to speak, the boy interrupted.

Judge William J. Obermiller looked down from the bench of his Whiting, Ind., court.

"WHEN WAS THE last time your boy has been spanked?" he asked the woman.

She glanced toward her boy and explained that she is both mother and father to him.

"He's bigger than me," she said.

Obermiller asked if the court could spank him. The woman replied that that would be fine with her.

IT'S BEEN A long time since that incident in 1962, but Obermiller, who will speak in Hoffman Estates today, still is nationally known as "the spanking judge."

"That was a landmark. I had several of them at that time," Obermiller recalls. "My theory is to make the kid remember what he did, and one way to make them remember is to embarrass them."

He was invited to speak in Hoffman Estates after Village Pres. Virginia M. Hayter proposed that one way to curb vandalism would be to make offenders work off their crimes.

It has been an Obermiller philosophy for a number of years.

He was one of the first judges to order vandals to work. In Whiting, some have cleaned up the beaches. Many have been required to write 1,000 times that they were wrong. Lifting an idea from Mark Twain, he has even had youngsters wash the local library's fence.

"I SAID, 'HECK, I don't want your money,' he explains. "And jail, that's not the answer. They've got to remember the error of their ways."

He concedes that some of the punishment he hands out was never taught at the University of Notre Dame school of law.

But it's a common sense that has served the 53-year-old jurist well through five terms as judge of the city court in Whiting.

It also has served him as the former deputy prosecuting attorney for Lake County, Ind., and as a lawyer before the Illinois and Indiana courts, the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, the U.S. Tax Court of Appeals and the U.S. Federal Court.

"Somehow, you get the gut feeling of what a kid's going to understand," Obermiller says. "Once the law has been met, then you close the law book and you open God's book."

HE ALSO agrees with a proposal getting wide consideration throughout the Northwest suburbs these days: holding parents responsible for the vandalism of their children.

Parents must be involved, Obermiller says, and one way to get them involved is through the pocketbook.

"But," he adds, "it's tough that you have to legislate parental love and involvement."

He does have other suggestions to curb vandalism.

For example, he believes that publicity helps provide the embarrassment, and he advocates it for repeat offenders.

"I don't think anonymity is the answer," Obermiller says.

He also thinks neighborhood courts that can act quickly are important.

"Most kids are going to step over the line once or twice," he points out. "We've got to come down hard when they do."

MEANWHILE, Obermiller thinks his philosophy has shown results in the Whiting area. He does get flack from some persons who are concerned that he is stepping on rights.

But, he says, he also is getting feedback from a number of those who have stood in his courtroom and received his unique sentences.

One person called recently to thank him, he remembers. He'll never forget having to clean the beaches and it put him on the straight and narrow, he told the judge.

And Obermiller will never forget his sentence in 1962 that resulted in a spanking for a boy too big to spank.

"That night," he recalls, "I think I was acting more as a daddy."

Obermiller to speak at Hoffman High

"The Spanking Judge," William J. Obermiller, 53, of Whiting, Ind., today will speak at Hoffman Estates High School, 1100 W. Higgins Rd.

Obermiller has appeared on national and Chicago area television programs, written articles for Readers' Digest, Guide Post, Lions International and Hoosier magazines and has given a number of lectures.

His appearance will begin at 7:30 p.m.

Village studies plan for improvements

An updated capital improvements plan for the Village of Arlington Heights will be reviewed today by the village board's finance committee.

The meeting will begin at 8 p.m. at the municipal building, 33 S. Arlington Heights Rd.

Details of the plan were not available Tuesday.

Forest View slates variety show

Forest View High School presents its student-produced variety show, "On the Skids," today and Thursday at 7:30 p.m. and Saturday at 8 p.m. in the high school's Little Theater, 2121 S. Goebbert Rd., Arlington Heights.

Tickets are $1.50 and are available by calling Burt Showers, 437-4600, ext. 237.

"On the Skids" has a series of skits, chorus numbers, band features, solos and dance numbers that investigate the category of "occupations." This year's show also includes baton twirling, magic, play scenes and show tunes. Students produced and directed the show.

Among 29 scheduled performances, the show offers these soloists: baton-ist Tommye Coyne; Darlene Bensfield presenting a monologue; Debbie Steele and Scott Daggett in a duet about chimney sweeps; magician Bryan Hanson; Laurie Preble and Jeff Schaffrath in a scene from Neil Simon's "Good Doctor;" Debbie Daliege, Joy Golish and Connie Froude presenting a choreographed version of "Singing in the Rain;" and Vicki DePinto presenting a bit of Country and Western.

This year's director is Carol Huston. Paul Burneson is the assistant director, Jim Swanson is technical director, Stacey Hoyt and Judy Gordon are dance directors, Jim Volkoun and Wendy Weaver are chorus directors, Jenny Stevens and Art Stevens coordinate individual acts and Caroline O'Boyle coordinates the acting. Jeff Francione is the business manager, and teacher Robert Stelk is the show's advisor.

Unit school district opponents to talk today

Opponents of the unit school district proposed for the Elk Grove Township Dist. 59 area will testify at a public hearing from 7 to 10 p.m. today at Elk Grove High School, 500 Elk Grove Blvd., Elk Grove Village.

The proposed unit district would combine Elk Grove and Forest View high schools and Dist. 59 schools under one school board and administration. Dist. 59 is one of seven elementary districts in the Dist. 214 area.

The unit district has met strong opposition from Dist. 214 officials, who say the proposed district would take about 40 per cent of the high school district's tax base but only about 27 per cent of its students.

DIST. 59 OFFICIALS favor the unit district, saying tax revenue generated from the local residents would remain in the area rather than being used to support the larger area of Dist. 214. Supporters of a unit district have testified at the past three hearings.

After all interested parties have been heard, County Schools Supt. Richard Martwick will make a recommendation on the unit district to Illinois Schools Supt. Joseph Cronin, who will decide whether an election should be conducted on the issue. If an election is conducted, only Dist. 59 residents will be eligible to vote.

Contributions to the memorial fund will be accepted at the school until Dec. 1.

But, he says, he also is getting feedback from a number of those who have stood in his courtroom and received his unique sentences.

One person called recently to thank him, he remembers. He'll never forget having to clean the beaches and it put him on the straight and narrow, he told the judge.

And Obermiller will never forget his sentence in 1962 that resulted in a spanking for a boy too big to spank.

"That night," he recalls, "I think I was acting more as a daddy."

Obermiller to speak at Hoffman High

"The Spanking Judge," William J. Obermiller, 53, of Whiting, Ind., today will speak at Hoffman Estates High School, 1100 W. Higgins Rd.

Obermiller has appeared on national and Chicago area television programs, written articles for Readers' Digest, Guide Post, Lions International and Hoosier magazines and has given a number of lectures.

His appearance will begin at 7:30 p.m.

Village studies plan for improvements

An updated capital improvements plan for the Village of Arlington Heights will be reviewed today by the village board's finance committee.

The meeting will begin at 8 p.m. at the municipal building, 33 S. Arlington Heights Rd.

Details of the plan were not available Tuesday.

Forest View slates variety show

Forest View High School presents its student-produced variety show, "On the Skids," today and Thursday at 7:30 p.m. and Saturday at 8 p.m. in the high school's Little Theater, 2121 S. Goebbert Rd., Arlington Heights.

Tickets are $1.50 and are available by calling Burt Showers, 437-4600, ext. 237.

"On the Skids" has a series of skits, chorus numbers, band features, solos and dance numbers that investigate the category of "occupations." This year's show also includes baton twirling, magic, play scenes and show tunes. Students produced and directed the show.

Among 29 scheduled performances, the show offers these soloists: baton-ist Tommye Coyne; Darlene Bensfield presenting a monologue; Debbie Steele and Scott Daggett in a duet about chimney sweeps; magician Bryan Hanson; Laurie Preble and Jeff Schaffrath in a scene from Neil Simon's "Good Doctor;" Debbie Daliege, Joy Golish and Connie Froude presenting a choreographed version of "Singing in the Rain;" and Vicki DePinto presenting a bit of Country and Western.

This year's director is Carol Huston. Paul Burneson is the assistant director, Jim Swanson is technical director, Stacey Hoyt and Judy Gordon are dance directors, Jim Volkoun and Wendy Weaver are chorus directors, Jenny Stevens and Art Stevens coordinate individual acts and Caroline O'Boyle coordinates the acting. Jeff Francione is the business manager, and teacher Robert Stelk is the show's advisor.

Unit school district opponents to talk today

Opponents of the unit school district proposed for the Elk Grove Township Dist. 59 area will testify at a public hearing from 7 to 10 p.m. today at Elk Grove High School, 500 Elk Grove Blvd., Elk Grove Village.

The proposed unit district would combine Elk Grove and Forest View high schools and Dist. 59 schools under one school board and administration. Dist. 59 is one of seven elementary districts in the Dist. 214 area.

The unit district has met strong opposition from Dist. 214 officials, who say the proposed district would take about 40 per cent of the high school district's tax base but only about 27 per cent of its students.

DIST. 59 OFFICIALS favor the unit district, saying tax revenue generated from the local residents would remain in the area rather than being used to support the larger area of Dist. 214. Supporters of a unit district have testified at the past three hearings.

After all interested parties have been heard, County Schools Supt. Richard Martwick will make a recommendation on the unit district to Illinois Schools Supt. Joseph Cronin, who will decide whether an election should be conducted on the issue. If an election is conducted, only Dist. 59 residents will be eligible to vote.

School sets up fund in Kyger's memory

South Junior High School in Arlington Heights has established a memorial fund for the late William R. Kyger, who served as assistant principal at the school for 11 years.

A committee already is working to select a permanent memorial that can be displayed at the school, 314 S. Highland, in honor of Kyger's 22 years of service to Arlington Heights Dist. 25.

Contributions to the memorial fund will be accepted at the school until Dec. 1.

An Arlington Heights resident, Kyger died July 27.

Kissinger's speech has farewell tone

In a speech that had the tone of a farewell address, Secretary of State Henry Kissinger said Tuesday the United States would always support free peoples and the West should not worry if China and the Soviet Union solve their ideological differences. "Now that the campaign is over, all Americans will support without doubt the strengthening of NATO," Kissinger told the North Atlantic Assembly in his first speech since the election. Kissinger said he would confer with President-elect Jimmy Carter soon "to answer completely all his questions and to assure that he takes over under the best possible circumstances."

Fanne Foxe takes overdose

Fanne Foxe, the "Argentine firecracker" whose relationship with former Rep. Wilbur Mills led to his downfall from power, took an overdose of valium Tuesday "to sleep a long time," her agent said. Miss Foxe, whose real name is Annabel Battistella, was admitted to Norwalk Hospital in New York where a spokesman said she was "undergoing treatment" for a drug overdose. Her condition was described as satisfactory. Miss Foxe's daughter, Grace, 18, told Carmen her mother had taken 40 tablets of valium, a painkiller, and locked herself in her room, Carmen said.

CIA justification ordered

A federal appeals court ruled Tuesday that the CIA is subject to the Freedom of Information Act and must justify publicly its refusal to disclose whether it had contacts with U.S. reporters regarding the Glomar Explorer project. In a 2-1 unsigned decision, the U.S. Court of Appeals for Washington said the CIA must "submit a public justification, which is as detailed as is possible, for refusing to confirm or deny the existence of the requested records." It said the CIA still might block disclosure of contacts, if any, with reporters on national security grounds, but must justify doing so with more than the two secret affidavits, which are not part of the court record available to the public.

Ford announces recall

Ford Motor Co. Tuesday recalled nearly 400,000 Pintos, Bobcats and Mustang II cars built in the 1976-model year because of a fuel hose defect that already has caused at least 100 engine compartment fires. A Ford spokesman said none of the fires caused explosions and drivers involved in such incidents managed to avoid collisions. However, two persons received minor injuries — one of them burning his hand when he tried to open his hood. All the cars involved have 2.3-liter engines. Ford will replace the small fuel line hose adjacent to the carburetor on each of the vehicles brought to its dealers.

FTC hits bedwet device

The Federal Trade Commission Tuesday moved against the marketers of an anti-bedwetting device whose sales tactics, it said, may have tricked consumers into spending $600 for something they could have bought for $40. The company and its distributors sell a plan which involves training and instruction, and the loan of a mechanical device which comes into contact with the bed and sounds a bell or other alarm when the child wets the bed. The FTC did not address the value of the training and consulting service, but it said the accompanying mechanical device is of a type which is available on the retail market for sale or rent at from $20 to $40. But those involved in the case, it said, were claiming they had a unique product.

Spain debates parliament

The Franco appointed Cortes (parliament) opened debate Tuesdays on a bill to abolish itself and create a Western-style, elected parliament as a mjor step in King Juan Carlos' program for bringing democracy to Spain. The bill provides for the dismantling of the present parliament appointed by Franco and its replacement with a two-chamber legislature elected by the people. Government sources said passage was virtually assured.

Chile releases prisoners

The military government in Chile Tuesday announced the release of more than 300 political prisoners — one day after President-elect Jimmy Carter said he might cut U.S. aid to Chile if it did not respect human rights. The Chilean announcement also said it will free an imprisoned Communist leader if the Soviet Union cancels a scientist's prison sentence. The United States has warned Chile repeatedly this year that future U.S. aid depends on the government's respect for human rights, and Carter said Monday he would consider cutting foreign aid to Chile if it did not project basic human rights.

Ballot battle may delay certification

by STEVE BROWN

The controversy over uncounted absentee ballots in Cook County from the Nov. 21 election now threatens to delay the certification of the election.

The possible delay, which could affect the entire state, emerged Tuesday during a three-hour hearing before Cook County Circuit Court Judge Arthur L. Dunne.

The heart of the controversy involves 2,658 absentee ballots in the 10th Congressional District race. U.S. Rep. Abner J. Mikva, D-10th, is seeking a writ of mandamus requiring Cook County Clerk Stanely T. Kusper Jr. to count the ballots. Samuel H. Young, Mikva's Republican opponent, is objecting.

Besides the 10th District ballots, there are another 2,289 absentee ballots in the rest of the county involved in the court dispute.

MIKVA HOLDS an unofficial 201-vote lead over Young.

After a 90-minute hearing Tuesday, Dunne dismissed a motion by Perry C. Fuller, Young's attorney, seeking to block Mikva's effort to have the votes counted. The hearing will resume at 11 a.m. today.

Kusper is required by law to report the official results of the election to the state by Monday. He did not know what would happen if he fails to make that report.

Kusper was clearly agitated with Fuller when he left court.

"He wants to make this a seven-week case. If he wants to count every piece of toilet paper in the office let him do it," Kusptr snapped.

Fuller assured Dunne he did not want to delay the case. However, he did request county election information dating back to 1968. Dunne narrowed that request to information for just the Nov. 2 election.

Dying wish to see son goes unanswered

ALAMEDA, Calif. (UPI) — A mother who could not cut through governmental red tape even with the aid of President Ford died of cancer Tuesday without getting her last wish to see her son, who is in a Mexican prison.

Isabel Millard, 68, a retired teacher, died shortly before dawn in Alameda Hospital, and nurses said "she hung on to the end to the hope" that appeals from Ford and California Gov. Edmund G. Brown Jr. would result in a one-day prison furlough for her son, Phillip, 32, a truck driver.

Brown's office said he had cabled Mexican President Luis Echeverria asking for "an act of mercy" which would furlough Millard, who has served nearly half of a 6½ year sentence for cocaine smuggling. There was no immediate response.

Millard will probably be released on parole within two weeks. A prisoner exchange program between the United States and Mexico is expected to begin soon.

Millard's brother, Bill, who was at his mother's side when she died and who had offered to take Phillip's place in the Mexico City jail to guarantee his return, wept after spending hours trying to call him at Santa Marta prison.

Ford makes no definite plans...

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Ford got down to work Tuesday, his first full day back after a long golfing vacation, meeting with economic advisers and planning to do "a lot of looking and listening" before making any definite plans for the future.

The long meeting with his top economic aides concerned the new federal budget Ford must present to Congress just before leaving office.

White House sources have said in recent days that Ford would leave Washington quickly after the Jan. 20 inauguration of Jimmy Carter and that he is almost certain to live in Palm Springs, Calif., where he spent eight days playing golf and relaxing in seclusion.

BUT WHITE HOUSE Pres Sec. Ron Nessen said he talked to Ford about his plans Tuesday morning, that Ford told him he has not made up his mind and that he is focusing for now on his "prime responsibility" for leading the country.

"The President has made no firm decisions on his future plans, either in terms of where he will live or what he will do," Nessen said. "He is going to do what he describes as a lot of looking and listening. When he has made his decisions, they will be announced.

"He doesn't feel that there's any hurry. He's not rushing to make these decisions. He believes that he has a prime responsibility between now and January 20th to be the President of the United States and that's the way he will function."

Nessen said Ford and Carter will meet "early next week" at the White House to discuss the presidential transition. General arrangements were made Monday in "a cordial, business-like" telephone conversation between the two men, Nessen said, but "details are still being worked out."

Although Nessen was vague on Ford's long-range personal plans, he said the President would spend the weekend as Nelson Rockefeller's guest at the vice president's Pocantico Hills estate in Tarrytown, N.Y.

Ford, accompanied by his wife Betty, will join the Rockefellers for dinner Saturday and church services Sunday morning before attending a private ceremony to dedicate the estate to the National Park Service as a national historic monument, Nessen said.

...as Carter steps up transition

PLAINS, Ga. (UPI) — Jimmy Carter stepped up the tempo of the presidential transition Tuesday, scheduling meetings with President Ford and Sec. of State Henry Kissinger.

Carter, who takes office Jan. 20, also summoned Vice President-elect Walter F. Mondale to Plains and the two will meet today with congressional leaders at the Lovejoy, Ga., home of Sen. Herman Talmadge. Friday they will confer with CIA officials.

The Saturday schedule is being kept open so Carter and Mondale can meet at length with Kissinger, who is traveling to Plains for the weekend meeting, although Carter will be in Washington next week.

AT CARTER'S request, the president-elect will meet with Ford while in Washington — either on Monday or Tuesday. It will be their first meeting since the election.

Much of the activity in the transfer of the presidency is shifting to Washington with today's opening of Carter's transition office there. Carter, however, plans to remain in Plains for the most part, making only brief trips to the capital prior to the inaugural.

The meeting today with congressional leaders will be Carter's first full contact with lawmakers since his election.

The 15 members of Congress attending the meeting include a number of key committee chairmen and several leaders or prospective leaders of both the Senate and the House...

THE LIST INCLUDES Representatives Thomas P. O'Neill, D-Mass., expected to be new House speaker; James Delaney, D-N.Y., new rules committee chairman; Ways and Means chairman Al Ullman, D-Ore.; outgoing budget chairman Brock Adams, D-Wash.; appropriations chairman George Mahon, D-Tex., and, tnetatively, Andrew Young, D-Ga., a black and one of Carter's early supporters.

The senators include Democratic leader Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., and three men vying to succeed him: Robert Bryd, of West Virginia, Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota and budget chairman Edmund Muskie of Maine.

Also attending will be Senators Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis., Alan Cranston, D-Calif., Floyd Haskell, D-Colo., Talmadge, D-Ga., and, tentatively, finance chairman Russell Long, D-La.

Hospital adds times for swine flu shots

Holy Family Hospital, Des Plaines, has announced additional dates for swine flu vaccinations for senior citizens and chronically ill persons.

The hospital also will give shots to children with a chronic illness.

Shots will be given from 3:30 to 7:30 p.m. Nov. 22 and Dec. 20.

Seniors more than 60, persons with a letter from their physician verifying a chronic illness, and children, ages 3 to 17, with a doctor's letter prescribing the shot are eligible.

Persons coming for flu shots should use the doctors' entrance to the hospital at 1300 Golf Rd.

Mommy and daddy got swine flu shots AFTER, not because Carter was elected

Herald's morals attacked

I was appalled by your front page article on unwed teen-age pregnancies. Doesn't The Herald have any moral standards at all? If it does, where in the article did anyone mention that premarital sex is sinful? One of the ironies of the article was the quotation from the girl who felt that if she kept contraceptives devices handy she would be more guilty than if she were simply carried away by the moment. The irony being that she was absolutely correct, but the article failed to mention this.

Too many people base their moral attitudes on the "Doris Day" approach to sin in "Pillow Talk." She was going to sack out with Rock Hudson, but since she was prevented from doing so, that made everything "all right." No way. Any moral theologian will tell you that it is the intention to commit sin. In other words, to make the decision that one will willingly separate from God and the laws of God if the opportunity arises, that is the sin; whether or not the actual act is committed or not doesn't matter. Just the other night, on "Happy Days," when Ron Howard opened up the bed for an immoral liaison with the girl he was dating, that show went on the restricted list in our house.

That Kinneman guy you quoted in the article was correct by accident when he said that some teachers in sex education are better than others. What he meant was the teaching of contraception, but the actual fact is that some teachers (at the risk of their jobs) are moral enough to tell the kids that sex outside marriage is sinful. Those are the better teachers.

The notion that contraception makes premarital sex "safe" is idiotic; safe from pregnancy, maybe, but certainly not safe from hellfire. I know that in this "enlightened" age, talk of hellfire is considered "square," but those who die believing there is no hell don't get the chance to come back and say how wrong they were.

What ever became of the common knowledge of good and evil among people? Doesn't anybody teach their kids anything about it anymore? The sex drive is one of the most powerful human emotions, second only to hunger. Why aren't the schools permitted to warn young people of the horrible eternal consequences of its misuse? Is this "one nation under God" or isn't it?

There's some good in the news

On behalf of the Palatine Township Youth Committee, I would like to take this opportunity to say thank you to all persons who made this year's Bridge tag day so very successful.

To all concerned adults and to all the Bridge kids, who so unselfishly gave of their time to stand on street corners for two days, I say thank you. Without the donations of interested and concerned persons who live in and around Palatine, our tag day could not have been considered a success. Because of your willingness to contribute, $1,300 was collected.

Flu clinics win praise

The long-awaited swine flu clinics just completed in the Northwest suburbs stand as a tribute to the suburban volunteers who made them work.

Over the weekend, more than 65,000 persons were inoculated against swine flu. While the turnout was lower than the clinics could have handled, it is an impressive accomplishment to inoculate that many people in three days.

Reports from the clinics indicate there were few problems. A few people fainted, some others had to wait in line if they arrived at the peak time.

Overall, those who planned and ran the clinics can consider themselves successful. Once again, the power of volunteer labor in the suburbs has been forcefully demonstrated.

What problems there were with the swine flu program, including the public skepticism that doubtless helped keep many eligible persons away, occurred at much higher levels of administration than the local clinics.

The changes in plans, congressional delays and general aura of uncertainty which accompanied the first steps toward developing the federal program cut into the effectiveness of the local effort.

Even with those handicaps, local efforts proved able to cope with the challenge. While in Chicago swine flu clinics are being run by paid workers, the suburbs did the job, and did it well, with volunteers.

It is encouraging to know such capabilities exist here. While there may not be any more mass vaccination programs for a long time, no one can ever be sure when an emergency will require a quick volunteer response from the community.

It may be, as some experts have said, that there will be no swine flu epidemic this year. It may be the flu, even if it strikes, will not be as deadly as first believed.

There are thousands of Northwest suburban residents who happily won't have to take those chances because of the success of the clinics.

'Re-education' continues in Vietnam

by NEA/London Economist News Service

HO CHI MINH CITY — (LENS) — Eighteen months after the fall of Saigon, information about what happened, and is happening, to the one million members of South Vietnam's army is beginning to reach the outside world.

Immediately after the surrender, all military men were ordered to report for "re-education." Most of them did, and most of the ordinary soldiers completed their course in no more than a week. Non-commissioned officers were worked on longer: between one month and a year. All of these have now been released except for a few "special cases."

The 40,000 officers, including doctors, are in for three years; "incorrigible" cases will stay longer.

THE OFFICERS are held in two types of camps. Most are living under conditions that can be survived by those in good physical condition, but which have proved fatal to others. The routine is dawn-to-dark: about half hard labor and half "political education."

The worst feature is the diet. The prisoners get about 200 grams of rice a day, whereas 800 grams is considered the minimum for someone doing manual labor. Some prisoners are allowed to grow their own vegetables, which helps a bit.

Medical services are almost non-existent. Some weeks ago, inmates were told they must learn a trade; they are now allowed occasional visits from relatives.

A SMALLER number of officers are held in tough "security camps" where conditions are apparently designed to break them. Few have escaped, and no mail is allowed in or out. But one Vietnamese who had a brief glimpse inside reported that the inmates were "no longer recognizable because of the brutal treatment they are receiving."

If or when they are eventually released, most of the officers will probably be treated much as the lower ranks were: if they have relatives in the country, they can go and live with them.

If not, they will probably be assigned to one of the new "economic zones" being created in the countryside whose main purpose is to relieve unemployment in Ho Chi Minh City (Saigon) and, at the same time, increase agricultural production. The target is to cut in half the city's population from last year's total of nearly 3 million.

LIFE IN THE economic zones seems to be better than in the re-education camps, but not very much. Apart from the breaking of new land, settlers have to put up their own shelters. Only a few rudimentary tools are available, and medical services are about as inadequate as for the prisoners.

Apart from the former officers, an unknown number of ex-civil servants and local officials are being "re-educated" for the basic three-year period. Nobody knows whether all the prisoners will have to serve the entire three years. There has as yet been no trickle of releases to indicate otherwise.

But it seems likely that the more useful prisoners, particularly doctors and skilled technicians, may be filtered out after a few more months. If the government does insist on the full three years, and under the present conditions, many of the prisoners — there may be 100,000 in all — will not live through it.

Carter's energy plans

Conserve more, use less atomic power

by WILLIAM E. CLAYTON
A Commentary

WASHINGTON (UPI) — In a Jimmy Carter administration, "you are going to hear a lot more energy conservation talk," nuclear energy will go slowly, and there will be a push for an energy superagency.

Those assessments of energy policy under Carter come from his own position papers, from interest groups that watched his campaign, and from the main congressional staff members dealing with energy.

Carter will be much more tolerant of federal controls than the free-enterprise and somewhat cautious Ford administration, they say.

Carter said in his energy policy statement, "I would exercise the federal government's obligation to protect the nation against an oil embargo and to negotiate on behalf of the consumer to keep Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries prices under reasonable control. The present practice of leaving the consumers' fate in the hands of the big oil companies and the OPEC cartel will be stopped."

AT THE SAME time, Carter has a fetish for streamlining, for cutting the number of offices involved. He has said there is one thing people wonder first of all: "How — or even whether — we can make our government work again."

He said he wants to reflect that concern in his energy policy by "straightening out the bureaucratic jumble in Washington."

He proposed a Cabinet-level department over all present offices that "perform the energy functions of policy and analysis, conservation, research and development, data collection and economic regulation of oil, gas, utilities and pipelines."

That sort of talk may hit some nerves on Capitol Hill, where some committee chairmen could be reluctant to give up their role in energy legislation.

Carter suggests an agency made up of many of the functions of the Federal Power Commission, the Federal Energy Administration, and Energy Research and Development Administration, plus some of the functions of the departments of Commerce, Interior and others.

FORD AND EVEN many Democrats in Congress were reluctant to preach conservation too strongly, for fear of hurting the economy. Carter pledges himself to "an all-out, comprehensive energy conservation program," with efficiency standards, incentives for saving, intense research for more energy-efficient technology, and "conservation pricing of energy."

"You are going to hear a lot more energy conservation talk," a Senate staff worker said. "Carter will push the idea that we can reduce our energy consumption without hurting our standard of living."

Carter, who is schooled in nuclear technology, told the North Carolina chapter of the interest group Common Cause, "With proper national planning, energy conservation can be increased and we can keep our dependence on nuclear energy to an absolute minimum."

That is a sharp contrast with the Republican emphasis, which started with Richard Nixon, on the "breeder" nuclear reactor that creates fuel in one form while using it in another.

"OUR GOVERNMENT has as its number one energy priority the proliferation of nuclear power plants at home and around the world that are increasing the danger of nuclear war," Carter said in one position paper. He said he would emphasize instead the production of coal, "our most abundant fuel," with a "clean-coal program" seeking ways to burn coal that do not pollute.

". . . and he says the leash is fully guaranteed."

Patronage plums tempt Democrats

Democrats are beginning to salivate as they contemplate the full impact of their candidate's winning the White House.

Jobs!

Oh, not the kind Jimmy Carter talked about on the campaign trail. Not the kind of jobs where millions will be rescued from the welfare rolls to be given pride and a paycheck.

Jobs! as in politics. Patronage.

There are about 2,200 federal jobs officially designated for political appointment. Former President Nixon unofficially expanded that many times over by declaring war on the civil service, by shifting and restructuring and generally demoralizing the career appointees until he had lots of jobs to fill from the ranks of the faithful and trustworthy. He even had an office in the White House specifically designed to get around the civil service.

Be that as it may, Jimmy Carter will have at least 2,200 jobs to fill come January, and that's not peanuts.

There will be everything from a secretary of state ($66,000) to ambassador to Mauritania ($37,800). There will even be a chauffeur for the administrator of the Agency for International Development ($5.19/hour).

The U.S. Government Printing Office was thoughtful enough to print a book listing all the jobs. 139 pages worth!

After eight long, Republican years, many Democrats will find that better reading than the "dream book" Sears Roebuck mails out each Christmas.

It's coffee with cream and cash

It's hard to think of anything more basic to the American culture than a cup of coffee.

Jokes and cartoons always picture the traditional bum asking for a dime for a cup. American servicemen immortalized it in their language as "java." And without even thinking about it, everyone knows John Wayne must take his black.

Maybe it teaches us something about the interdependence of the world that a frost in Brazil is having a dramatic impact on the American coffee habit. Coffee wholesalers say the frost will cause a 15 to 20 cent per pound price increase in coffee in the next two months.

Anyone who has bought coffee recently, whether at the grocery store or in a restaurant, knows that the price of tradition is already high.

A Herald story last week quoted one coffee dealer as saying a consumer coffee boycott may be the only way to bring down prices.

While such an extreme step seems unlikely, coffee drinkers certainly should start looking for ways to cut costs as prices continue to climb.

In fact, we may all start paraphrasing the ill-fated French queen Marie Antoinette. The new catch-phrase might be "Let them drink tea."

Mommy and daddy got swine flu shots AFTER, not because Carter was elected

Herald's morals attacked

I was appalled by your front page article on unwed teen-age pregnancies. Doesn't The Herald have any moral standards at all? If it does, where in the article did anyone mention that premarital sex is sinful? One of the ironies of the article was the quotation from the girl who felt that if she kept contraceptives devices handy she would be more guilty than if she were simply carried away by the moment. The irony being that she was absolutely correct, but the article failed to mention this.

Too many people base their moral attitudes on the "Doris Day" approach to sin in "Pillow Talk." She was going to sack out with Rock Hudson, but since she was prevented from doing so, that made everything "all right." No way. Any moral theologian will tell you that it is the intention to commit sin. In other words, to make the decision that one will willingly separate from God and the laws of God if the opportunity arises, that is the sin; whether or not the actual act is committed or not doesn't matter. Just the other night, on "Happy Days," when Ron Howard opened up the bed for an immoral liaison with the girl he was dating, that show went on the restricted list in our house.

That Kinneman guy you quoted in the article was correct by accident when he said that some teachers in sex education are better than others. What he meant was the teaching of contraception, but the actual fact is that some teachers (at the risk of their jobs) are moral enough to tell the kids that sex outside marriage is sinful. Those are the better teachers.

The notion that contraception makes premarital sex "safe" is idiotic; safe from pregnancy, maybe, but certainly not safe from hellfire. I know that in this "enlightened" age, talk of hellfire is considered "square," but those who die believing there is no hell don't get the chance to come back and say how wrong they were.

What ever became of the common knowledge of good and evil among people? Doesn't anybody teach their kids anything about it anymore? National to A&P transition smooth

Kathleen Bell

Jim Rechstiner

by LEA TONKIN

The aroma of freshly ground coffee wafted toward shoppers as they made their way into the new A&P food store in Palatine Tuesday.

For some shoppers, the transition from a National store to an A&P outlet at 534 Hicks Rd. and 54 other Chicago area location was marked only by new signs and the "while you wait'' grinding of A&P's Eight O'Clock coffee. Familiar faces and a smooth transition from National store brands to the A&P lines should draw National's customers back to the newly converted stores, Don Smith, manager, said at the Palatine outlet.

Several former National customers at the Palatine store said Tuesday they probably will continue to shop at the outlet under new management.

Kathleen Bell, a Palatine resident, said she looks for quality meats and other food items. She plans to compare values at the A&P store with previous service.

Delicatessen employe Jim Rechstiner said customers will find no difference in the selections in his department. He is a former National employe, as are other workers in the store.

"I'LL BE WATCHING for good values, bargains and specials," Karen Schneid of Palatine said. She was surprised that few changes were made in the store's operations.

"Happy people are a key to any transition," said David Sober, also of Palatine, A&P's director of merchandising for the Chicago division. Sober said the chain hopes to keep the former National customers coming back.

People who used to shop at A&P stores and new customers who've never stopped at A&P also are important to the chain's success, he said.

In addition to the Palatine outlet, new A&P stores in the Northwest suburbs are located in Wheeling, Arlington Heights and Des Plaines. Bruno Albiez manages the Des Plaines outlet at 1155 Lee St.; Cliff Carlson manages the outlet at 100 E. Rand Rd., Arlington Heights and Dale Arenot is the manager of the store at 1900 S. Wolf Rd., Wheeling.

National and A&P announced a tentative agreement for the acquisition Oct. 1. National has more than 90 remaining stores in the Chicago metropolitan area.

A year-end target date for withdrawal from the Chicago market was set by National, which will retain headquarters offices at 9701 S. Higgins Rd., Rosemont. The National store at 2995 Kirchoff, Rolling Meadows has been purchased by independent retailer Paul Butera. No information was available on the prospects for National's store at Arlington Heights and Dundee roads, Buffalo Grove. More than 80 per cent of National's remaining stores are covered by current negotiations, said a National official who refuses to give his name.

James Cocones, property manager at the Buffalo Grove mall where a National store is located, said National is under contract to operate the store until 1985, despite a reported Dec. 4 closing date.

M. Loeb firm to acquire stores

The M. Loeb Corp., an Elk Grove Village distributor of grocery products announced Tuesday that by year's end it will buy, service or finance 12 National Tea Co. stores, some of which will be purchased by independent operators.

Some of the stores, at undisclosed locations, will be converted to IGA stores operated by franchisees, said Bertram Loeb, chairman of the parent firm Loeb, Ltd., and James Jacobs, vice president and general manager of the Chicago division.

Other National stores within the group will be owned and operated by former National personnel and independent operators, supplied and financed by M. Loeb.

The M. Loeb firm also plans to expand its IGA food store franchise program in north and central Illinois, northern Indiana, southern Wisconsin and eastern Iowa. The Ottawa, Canada based M. Loeb Ltd. said during 1976 it will report more than $1.2 billion in sales at 44 U.S. and Canadian outlets.

Group uses healthy way to cut care cost

Speaking dollar-wise

by Robert S. Rosefsky

The cost of health care is a problem, and it's getting worse. Not much argument about that. But what to do about it? There's a sticky point.

Since health care costs are incurred only when we visit a doctor or a hospital, it's only logical to conclude that we can cut our health care costs by cutting down the need to visit doctors and hospitals. In other words: get sick less. How? Preventive medicine.

Sounds idealistic? Sure.

But Dr. Glenn Friedman, a Scottsdale, Ariz., pediatrician, has formed a nonprofit organization called Health Evaluation and Longevity Planning (HELP) that approaches the problem with a pocketbook motivation.

HELP consists of screening individuals to determine the level of risk they are to heart attack and stroke. Established tests — such as blood pressure, cholesterol, obesity, lung function and stress evaluation — can scientifically measure the probability of any individual incurring such disability. Following the screening, individuals are counseled by trained personnel regarding nutrition, exercise and habits that contribute to the risk.

PILOT PROJECTS have indicated that the program is indeed capable of lowering individual risk levels, thus rendering them less susceptible to the diseases.

And preliminary statistics indicate that individuals at lower risk are more productive at work, experience a lower rate of absenteeism and have a higher level of job satisfaction. That, to employers, translates into dollars saved. Less sick pay benefits, lower turnover and greater efficiency can mean a healthier bottom line.

In turn, better performance on the part of employes should earn them better opportunities for job and pay improvement.

HELP is being offered to business and industry either on an employes-only basis, or on a full-family basis. The screenings are swift and painless, and individual results are maintained in full confidentiality. The employer will know his group statistics but not individual ratings.

it's a promising approach to a vexing problem.

Deere machinists go out on strike

United Auto Workers members comprising most of the 4,600 employes at Deere and Company's Harvester Works in East Moline, Ill. were directed Tuesday to observe picket lines put up by 100 members of the International Assn. of Machinists.

Members of machinists Local 1191 walked off their jobs at Deere and Co. Harvester Works at midnight Monday after rejecting a contract offer and most production workers on the day shift refused to cross their picket line. About 100 members of the International Assn. of Machinists struck the farm implement manufacturer's plant. A union spokesman said most of the 2,000-member United Auto Workers Local 865 observed the picket lines for the morning shift. The plant employs about 4,600 UAW members, who recently reached agreement on a new contract after a 39-day strike.

UAW, GM pact talks progress

Negotiators for General Motors and the United Auto Workers said Tuesday progress is being made toward agreement on a new contract for 390,000 workers, but refused to speculate on whether they will beat a 12:01 a.m. Friday strike deadline. UAW Vice President Irving Bluestone, the chief union bargainer, said one bright sign was the start of response by GM to the union's economic proposals. He said the company also has been presenting proposals on noneconomic issues. The complete results from the Chrysler UAW ratification vote are due late today. The union said approval would be by a wider margin than the union got when it submitted a pattern-setting contract to 170,000 striking Ford Motor Co. workers in October. Skilled tradesmen, who could veto the pact, almost forced the union back into negotiations at Ford. New car sales reports issued Monday showed the industry sold 220,400 cars in early November, down 1½ per cent from last year. Chrysler and GM recorded modest 4 and 5 per cent gains, with GM's two big car divisions — Cadillac and Oldsmobile — setting sales records. The Ford Motor Co., still feeling the lingering effects of a 28-day strike, was down 13 per cent while American Motors, despite a $253 price cut on its subcompact Gremlin, fell 31 per cent below the Nov. 1-10 period last year.

Inland finds coal near Marshall

Inland Steel Co. said Tuesday drilling tests have identified a considerable deposit of high volatile coal for possible future deep mine development in east-central Illinois near Marshall. Inland estimated the deposit contains more than 200 million tons of commercially recoverable coal and is on land in Clark County under lease to Northern Mining, Inc., an Inland subsidiary.

Continental Airlines will resume service today following signing of an agreement ending a strike by pilots, a company spokesman said Tuesday. Details of the agreement signed in Miami, at the annual convention of the Air Line Pilots Assn., were not disclosed immediately. "I believe both parties have achieved a fair settlement of their differences," Robert F. Six, Continental's chairman of the board, said. "We're anxious to resume service to the traveling public." A spokesman said the airline would resume about 50 per cent of normal service today, with some flights in nearly all of the 33 cities on the schedule.

Billiard shop to open

Rozel Industries, Inc., Lincolnwood, has leased space in the Woodfield Commons shopping center, Schaumburg, for a Minnesota Fats Billiard & Leisure Center. Pool tables and accessories, saunas, trophies and other items will be sold at the store.

Dow down slightly, others gain

NEW YORK (UPI) — Prices managed to register an irregular gain Tuesday in active trading on the New York Stock Exchange although a judge's ruling against AT&T shattered an early rally.

The Dow Jones industrial average, ahead nearly eight points in the early afternoon, lost 0.08 to 935.34. The blue-chip average gained 7.73 points in Monday's bargain-hunting rally.

Among the broader-based market indicators, the NYSE common stock index gained 0.10 to 53.53 and the average price of a common share increaeed 6 cents. Standard & Poor's 500-stock index, which includes some over-the-counter stocks, gained 0.14 to 100.04.

After holding a 3-1 advantage earlier, advances topped declines, 882 to 535, among the 1,891 issues crossing the tape. The 474 unchanged issues reflected considerable investor uncertainty.

Volume totaled 21,020,000 shares, up from the 16,710,000 traded Monday. It was the heaviest turnover since 21,703,600 shares changed hands Nov. 4.

National to A&P transition smooth

Kathleen Bell

Jim Rechstiner

by LEA TONKIN

The aroma of freshly ground coffee wafted toward shoppers as they made their way into the new A&P food store in Palatine Tuesday.

For some shoppers, the transition from a National store to an A&P outlet at 534 Hicks Rd. and 54 other Chicago area location was marked only by new signs and the "while you wait'' grinding of A&P's Eight O'Clock coffee. Familiar faces and a smooth transition from National store brands to the A&P lines should draw National's customers back to the newly converted stores, Don Smith, manager, said at the Palatine outlet.

Several former National customers at the Palatine store said Tuesday they probably will continue to shop at the outlet under new management.

Kathleen Bell, a Palatine resident, said she looks for quality meats and other food items. She plans to compare values at the A&P store with previous service.

Delicatessen employe Jim Rechstiner said customers will find no difference in the selections in his department. He is a former National employe, as are other workers in the store.

"I'LL BE WATCHING for good values, bargains and specials," Karen Schneid of Palatine said. She was surprised that few changes were made in the store's operations.

"Happy people are a key to any transition," said David Sober, also of Palatine, A&P's director of merchandising for the Chicago division. Sober said the chain hopes to keep the former National customers coming back.

People who used to shop at A&P stores and new customers who've never stopped at A&P also are important to the chain's success, he said.

In addition to the Palatine outlet, new A&P stores in the Northwest suburbs are located in Wheeling, Arlington Heights and Des Plaines. Bruno Albiez manages the Des Plaines outlet at 1155 Lee St.; Cliff Carlson manages the outlet at 100 E. Rand Rd., Arlington Heights and Dale Arenot is the manager of the store at 1900 S. Wolf Rd., Wheeling.

National and A&P announced a tentative agreement for the acquisition Oct. 1. National has more than 90 remaining stores in the Chicago metropolitan area.

A year-end target date for withdrawal from the Chicago market was set by National, which will retain headquarters offices at 9701 S. Higgins Rd., Rosemont. The National store at 2995 Kirchoff, Rolling Meadows has been purchased by independent retailer Paul Butera. No information was available on the prospects for National's store at Arlington Heights and Dundee roads, Buffalo Grove. More than 80 per cent of National's remaining stores are covered by current negotiations, said a National official who refuses to give his name.

James Cocones, property manager at the Buffalo Grove mall where a National store is located, said National is under contract to operate the store until 1985, despite a reported Dec. 4 closing date.

M. Loeb firm to acquire stores

The M. Loeb Corp., an Elk Grove Village distributor of grocery products announced Tuesday that by year's end it will buy, service or finance 12 National Tea Co. stores, some of which will be purchased by independent operators.

Some of the stores, at undisclosed locations, will be converted to IGA stores operated by franchisees, said Bertram Loeb, chairman of the parent firm Loeb, Ltd., and James Jacobs, vice president and general manager of the Chicago division.

Other National stores within the group will be owned and operated by former National personnel and independent operators, supplied and financed by M. Loeb.

The M. Loeb firm also plans to expand its IGA food store franchise program in north and central Illinois, northern Indiana, southern Wisconsin and eastern Iowa. The Ottawa, Canada based M. Loeb Ltd. said during 1976 it will report more than $1.2 billion in sales at 44 U.S. and Canadian outlets.

Group uses healthy way to cut care cost

Speaking dollar-wise

by Robert S. Rosefsky

The cost of health care is a problem, and it's getting worse. Not much argument about that. But what to do about it? There's a sticky point.

Since health care costs are incurred only when we visit a doctor or a hospital, it's only logical to conclude that we can cut our health care costs by cutting down the need to visit doctors and hospitals. In other words: get sick less. How? Preventive medicine.

Sounds idealistic? Sure.

But Dr. Glenn Friedman, a Scottsdale, Ariz., pediatrician, has formed a nonprofit organization called Health Evaluation and Longevity Planning (HELP) that approaches the problem with a pocketbook motivation.

HELP consists of screening individuals to determine the level of risk they are to heart attack and stroke. Established tests — such as blood pressure, cholesterol, obesity, lung function and stress evaluation — can scientifically measure the probability of any individual incurring such disability. Following the screening, individuals are counseled by trained personnel regarding nutrition, exercise and habits that contribute to the risk.

PILOT PROJECTS have indicated that the program is indeed capable of lowering individual risk levels, thus rendering them less susceptible to the diseases.

And preliminary statistics indicate that individuals at lower risk are more productive at work, experience a lower rate of absenteeism and have a higher level of job satisfaction. That, to employers, translates into dollars saved. Less sick pay benefits, lower turnover and greater efficiency can mean a healthier bottom line.

In turn, better performance on the part of employes should earn them better opportunities for job and pay improvement.

HELP is being offered to business and industry either on an employes-only basis, or on a full-family basis. The screenings are swift and painless, and individual results are maintained in full confidentiality. The employer will know his group statistics but not individual ratings.

it's a promising approach to a vexing problem.

Deere machinists go out on strike

United Auto Workers members comprising most of the 4,600 employes at Deere and Company's Harvester Works in East Moline, Ill. were directed Tuesday to observe picket lines put up by 100 members of the International Assn. of Machinists.

Members of machinists Local 1191 walked off their jobs at Deere and Co. Harvester Works at midnight Monday after rejecting a contract offer and most production workers on the day shift refused to cross their picket line. About 100 members of the International Assn. of Machinists struck the farm implement manufacturer's plant. A union spokesman said most of the 2,000-member United Auto Workers Local 865 observed the picket lines for the morning shift. The plant employs about 4,600 UAW members, who recently reached agreement on a new contract after a 39-day strike.

UAW, GM pact talks progress

Negotiators for General Motors and the United Auto Workers said Tuesday progress is being made toward agreement on a new contract for 390,000 workers, but refused to speculate on whether they will beat a 12:01 a.m. Friday strike deadline. UAW Vice President Irving Bluestone, the chief union bargainer, said one bright sign was the start of response by GM to the union's economic proposals. He said the company also has been presenting proposals on noneconomic issues. The complete results from the Chrysler UAW ratification vote are due late today. The union said approval would be by a wider margin than the union got when it submitted a pattern-setting contract to 170,000 striking Ford Motor Co. workers in October. Skilled tradesmen, who could veto the pact, almost forced the union back into negotiations at Ford. New car sales reports issued Monday showed the industry sold 220,400 cars in early November, down 1½ per cent from last year. Chrysler and GM recorded modest 4 and 5 per cent gains, with GM's two big car divisions — Cadillac and Oldsmobile — setting sales records. The Ford Motor Co., still feeling the lingering effects of a 28-day strike, was down 13 per cent while American Motors, despite a $253 price cut on its subcompact Gremlin, fell 31 per cent below the Nov. 1-10 period last year.

Inland finds coal near Marshall

Inland Steel Co. said Tuesday drilling tests have identified a considerable deposit of high volatile coal for possible future deep mine development in east-central Illinois near Marshall. Inland estimated the deposit contains more than 200 million tons of commercially recoverable coal and is on land in Clark County under lease to Northern Mining, Inc., an Inland subsidiary.

Lillian Hayward

A front-runner for peace

by ELEANOR RIVES

Lillian Hayward of Prospect Heights is a woman who speaks her mind.

She speaks it in petitions, leaflets, monthly bulletins and on signs — big signs — that she carries above her head on the busiest street in Chicago.

She tells you how she feels about poisoning of the atmosphere, about war, about refusing amnesty to draft resisters, about the manufacture of nuclear bombs.

Fifteen years ago, in 1961, when Russia decided to break the moratorium on nuclear testing in the atmosphere and the United States threatened to follow suit, it set off a chain reaction of female fury that singed telephone wires across the nation.

WOMEN CAME out of kitchens, offices, work places by the thousands, all across the country, to protest the poisoning of the atmosphere — women concerned for the safety of their children. In Chicago, armed with signs and leaflets, a contingent marched in front of the Federal Building. Lillian marched with them.

It was the birth of a nationwide movement, a movement known as "Women Strike for Peace," now shortened to Women for Peace (WFP).

"We worked so hard to get the Test Ban Treaty through," said Lillian. "We petitioned Congress, we met with scientists, we had open meetings. We were terribly concerned about such dangers as strontium 90 in our children's milk."

ONCE THE treaty was passed, the women breathed a sigh of relief. Until the U.S. entered the Vietnam war. Then began a faithful vigil on State Street every Saturday from 11 a.m. to 1 — housewives and mothers petitioning for signatures, passing out literature, carrying their placards week after week, rain or shine.

From 1965 to 1973, they protested the slaughter of young men and women and urged the U.S. to get out of the war. They educated themselves so they could discuss the problems intelligently.

"Napalm brought more women into our movement than anything else," said Mrs. Hayward. "One woman held up pictures of children being burned by napalm — their shoulders and head. People were horrified."

WFP ALSO offered draft counseling to young men. "We are for complete and unconditional amnesty," she said. "Not only for young men but for civilians as well, people like Jane Kennedy who tried to wake the people as to what was going on."

Lillian participated, sometimes with one or more of her three sons, sometimes alone, in the Washington, D.C., death marches. "I was there with a half million others," she said. "We marched around the capitol, each carrying a sign with the name of a dead soldier. When we reached the White House — where Nixon was inside watching a football game — we shouted out the name. At the end of the march, to the accompaniment of a drum roll, we dropped the name in a coffin."

LILLIAN MOVED to Prospect Heights from Des Plaines in 1970. When she became vocal against war, she found a good many women who agreed with her. They began to hold meetings in each others' homes, to show films and hold discussions. They tape-recorded individual messages and sent them to Washington.

In 1973, at the close of the Vietnam war, the State Street vigils ended. Just last month, they resumed.

"Stop the arms race — save the human race!" is the cry of WFP today, as stated on the monthly bulletin which Lillian edited for eight years and now co-edits with two other women.

"We are for a completely disarmed world," she said. "We believe that no power, or group of powers, should hold the power of life or death over any peoples.

"ALL THIS talk about nuclear deterrents! What is a nuclear deterrent? Is it one bomb? Two bombs — 100 bombs? The U.S. has about 30,000 nuclear bombs now and continues to manufacture them at the rate of three a day."

She continued, "There is no such thing as a limited nuclear war. From the point of view of sophisticated weaponry, nuclear bombs are cheap. How much of our energy is being expended in the manufacture of useless weapons? The world is on a collision course to insanity!"

Complete disarmament? Where do you start?

"With your own country," said Lillian. "We must stop making weapons, we must stop selling weapons. We must spend more of our money for hu-

Safety box location can't be kept secret

Dear Ms. Martoccio,

Will you please tell me how I can locate a safety deposit box? Recently my husband passed away. I know he has a box somewhere in Chicago, but he never told me where. I guess he never expected to die suddenly because he probably would have told me. On the other hand, outside of providing for me and the children out of his salary, he was very secretive about his affairs. Now I'm a quandary thanks to his attitude. I can't understand why a man can't trust his own wife.—CK.

Dear C.K.,

Whether your husband was negligent or didn't want you to know, one thing is certain: he didn't carry his secret to his grave forever. You may contact the Illinois Safe Deposit Assn. (Chicago) for information regarding how to find your husband's safety deposit box. This company sends tracers to banking organizations in order to pass the information on to inquirers.

HOWEVER, there are certain prerequisites. The inquirer must have a death certificate, must have proof of relationship and also must provide an affidavit which would appoint the company to represent the estate.

The company sends tracers to areas within Cook and several other adjoining counties and major cities of certain areas of the state. All the details will be given you upon request.

If you need to be convinced that husbands aren't unique in not trusting spouses when money is involved, read on:

Dear Atty. Martoccio,

I'm planning to marry in June. I have saved up a sizable bank account which I do not care to share with anyone, not even my future husband. I worked ever since I was 16 and I would feel completely lost if I did not have ready access to my own money.

I PLAN TO keep on working and, of course, will share household expenses, so it isn't an instance of being unfair or selfish. Am I correct in thinking that I may have my own bank account?—W.C.

Dear W.C.

Legally, or morally? Legally, yes, you may have the bank account in your own name and no one may draw anything from it without your permission. Frankly, I can't see anything wrong with a woman's wanting to have her own bank account, providing she would be willing to grant the same privilege to her husband. I know of several instances where a husband was saved from financial ruin because he had some of his wife's money to draw on. The feeling of financial independence, no matter how small, can add dignity to a woman's position as a housewife.

(Readers are invited to submit questions regarding problems of women and children. Names and facts that would identify the writer are withheld on request. Welcome Wagon Newcomers preview holiday fashions

PARIS MAY BE STAGING its spring and summer shows, but right now area women are more interested in what to wear for the coming festivities and the days leading to the holidays. Mount Prospect Welcome Wagon Newcomers Club had the answers on the runway Saturday at Seven Eagles. A champagne luncheon was followed by a showing of women's fashions from The Robin's Nest, children's fashions from Just for Kids and men's fashions from The Man's Shop, all in Countryside Court, Mount Prospect. A vest and pant outfit was modeled by Amy Wiechmann, center; a mint green tunic pant suit by the club's president, Ann King, left. Wanita Lamkey, general chairman of the luncheon, greeted guests in a blue Ultra Suede outfit. Nearly 300 attended the event, proceeds of which will go to the Cancer Society.

If you need to be convinced that husbands aren't unique in not trusting spouses when money is involved, read on:

Dear Atty. Martoccio,

I'm planning to marry in June. I have saved up a sizable bank account which I do not care to share with anyone, not even my future husband. I worked ever since I was 16 and I would feel completely lost if I did not have ready access to my own money.

I PLAN TO keep on working and, of course, will share household expenses, so it isn't an instance of being unfair or selfish. Am I correct in thinking that I may have my own bank account?—W.C.

Dear W.C.

Legally, or morally? Legally, yes, you may have the bank account in your own name and no one may draw anything from it without your permission. Frankly, I can't see anything wrong with a woman's wanting to have her own bank account, providing she would be willing to grant the same privilege to her husband. I know of several instances where a husband was saved from financial ruin because he had some of his wife's money to draw on. The feeling of financial independence, no matter how small, can add dignity to a woman's position as a housewife.

Welcome Wagon Newcomers preview holiday fashions

PARIS MAY BE STAGING its spring and summer shows, but right now area women are more interested in what to wear for the coming festivities and the days leading to the holidays. Mount Prospect Welcome Wagon Newcomers Club had the answers on the runway Saturday at Seven Eagles. A champagne luncheon was followed by a showing of women's fashions from The Robin's Nest, children's fashions from Just for Kids and men's fashions from The Man's Shop, all in Countryside Court, Mount Prospect. A vest and pant outfit was modeled by Amy Wiechmann, center; a mint green tunic pant suit by the club's president, Ann King, left. Wanita Lamkey, general chairman of the luncheon, greeted guests in a blue Ultra Suede outfit. Nearly 300 attended the event, proceeds of which will go to the Cancer Society.

Hypnosis won't cure if desire not there

My husband and I are heavy smokers. We have now reached the point where we can feel the ill effects from smoking so much and have tried a few times to stop but always ended up smoking again.

We have heard of hypnosis being an answer to our problem. We would like to have your opinion on how effective hypnosis is and if there are side effects. Would you recommend hypnosis as a possible solution? We are looking forward to your response.

Hypnosis may help, but it won't cure you. The people who are cured of smoking from hypnosis are ones who really want to quit — not those who just think they want to quit. Motivation is everything.

Hypnosis may help a person cut down on smoking, but too often the person who seeks help really does so to please his mate or for some similar reason and deep down really doesn't want to stop the habit. In these circumstances the effort is usually wasted.

I think if you understand that you have to provide the will power and realize that hypnosis is only a help and you have to do the rest, it might be helpful to you.

Another solution that helps some people is to get away from their everyday environment that is associated with smoking. A vacation with your husband with an agreement that neither will smoke is a good idea. Try to plan something that will keep you busy and not associate you with friends you are used to smoking with. That may help you get started. Don't be discouraged;most people who quit try it several times before they are finally successful. Remember the old adage: if at first you don't succeed try, try again.

I am sending you The Health Letter number 2-6, Tobacco: Cigarets, Cigars, Pipes. Others who want this information can send 50 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it. I would like to know what causes gallstones and why we have to have our gall bladder taken out. What are gallstones really made of?

Gallstones come in different varieites. Some are made mostly of the bile pigments and are hard stones that one can see on a routine xray of the abdomen. Others are made of cholesterol, which is concentrated in the bile. Still others are a mixture of cholesterol and pigment with other chemicals.

Gallstones are most likely to form when the gall bladder has become inflamed. It can get inflamed just as your appendix can. They also tend to form when there is an abnormal ratio of bile pigments, cholesterol and substances that help to maintain solubility of these in the bile. The material settles out and forms small grains which grow to larger stones.

The gall bladder is usually removed when stones are present because of the very present danger of an acutely inflamed gall bladder which can rupture and lead to serious complications, or because the small stones may lodge in the bile ducts and obstruct the liver. There is also a higher incidence of cancer of the gall bladder in patients with stones.

The decision whether to take a gall bladder out or leave it in is often based upon the age and medical condition of the patient in relation to these dangers.

Wedding cookie great treat for the holidays

DearDorothy: While on a trip we tasted one of the best cookies we've ever run into. It was round and covered with powdered sugar. I was told it was a Mexican Wedding cookie. Have you ever run into a recipe for something like this—Nancy Pace

What an ideal time for this to come up. The Mexican Wedding cookie is one of the best and it's wonderful for the holiday period. What's more, it's easy to make. Cream one cup margarine with one-half cup confectioners' sugar. Then blend in one-half teaspoon vanilla, one and three-fourth cups sifted flour and one-half cup ground pecans. Chill. Then take out pieces of the dough and roll into balls about the size of a walnut — or mold into fingers — and bake on an ungreased cookie sheet for about 15 minutes at 350 degrees, or until golden brown. When slightly cool, roll in powdered sugar.

Dear Dorothy: This is bound to happen to others and they might want to keep it in mind. After guests left the other evening, I spotted a small area on our wool carpet where a partly-smoked cigarette had fallen. Promptly dabbed it with household ammonia. The scorch disappeared with no trace of color damage to the carpet.—Mildred Pope

Dear Dorothy: I wouldn't advise readers to use paper ashes on their plants and gardens. My experience has been that using ashes from recycled paper killed everything. Not even weeds would grow. Maybe some kind of chemical is added in the recycling that causes this.—Fletcher R. Brodt

Private industry pays ex-government employes big

WASHINGTON (UPI) — High-level government employes are rewarded handsomely for public service when they return to private industry, earning 72 to 100 per cent more than before, the federal pay commission was told Tuesday.

For example, Arnold Weber told the panel: "Being a former congressman means something in the marketplace."

He said a survey showed congressmen realized a 100 per cent increase over their pre-government salaries when they left Capitol Hill.

WEBER, A PROVOST with Carnegie-Mellon University and a former assistant Labor Dept. secretary, discussed the topic as the Commission on Executive, Legislative and Judicial Salaries weighed what size increases to recommend next week for high-level government officials.

Commission chairman Peter G. Peterson said the benefit of government service in later salaries would be one of several factors in determining the amount of increase. The hike, according to the range of proposals presented to the panel so far, may cost the government anywhere from $25 million to $130 million.

Weber said a survey by his staff showed top federal employes are rewarded handsomely for their government service.

"There is a positive relationship between the time spent in government and the earnings after they come out," he said.

THE SURVEY SHOWED that executive branch officials reentering the private sector after an average five years of federal service received salaries averaging 72 per cent above what they made just before entering government, Weber said.

The increase was even higher for members of Congress, he said. They realized a 100 per cent increase over their pre-government salaries, but the size of the jump apparently diminished with time.

He said the longer the time elapsed since a congressman served in Washington, the less the experience seems to mean in the business marketplace.

Only 11 federal judges who left the bench were interviewed, but the survey of their experiences showed judges realized a salary increase between 72 and 100 per cent, Weber said.

The commission's recommendation may be altered by the president in submitting his budget, and it automatically becomes law unless Congress rejects or modifies it within 30 days.

Uganda used good sense at Entebbe raid: report

NAIROBI, Kenya (UPI) — A special board of inquiry into the Israeli raid on Entebbe airport which rescued more than 100 hijack hostages reported Tuesday that Ugandan troops could have shot down the Israeli planes but did not do so on humanitarian grounds.

A report issued by military commission investigating the July 4 raid, in which Israeli commandoes landed at the airport, killed the hijackers and rescued the hostages in 90 minutes, also absolved Uganda of the death of one of the hostages, Dora Bloch, who disappeared inside the country after the raid.

The report to Pres. Idi Amin further found no complicitiy between Uganda and the pro-Palestinian guerrillas who hijacked an Air France airbus to Entebbe and held the more than 100 passengers hostage, as Israel had claimed.

The report also said Amin had since persuaded the Palestinians not to carry out any further hijackings in Africa.

The special military commission said Ugandan troops at the airport were confused at the outset of the raid and thought the planes landing with Israeli commandos were actually carrying Palestinian prisoners whose release from Israeli jails had been demanded by the hijackers.

The report said Ugandan troops moved toward the landing aircraft still unaware of what was happening. When the troops came under fire they at first thought the hijackers were killing the hostages, it said.

Ask Andy

Oceans, seas of the world differ

Andy sends the Encyclopaedia Britannica's 1976 Yearbook of Science and the Future to Mark Choate, 9, of Des Moines, Iowa, for his question:

WHAT IS THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN A SEA AND AN OCEAN?

An ocean is a major body of water. The word "ocean" is included in the names of only five bodies of water in the world — Atlantic, Pacific, Indian, Arctic and Antarctic. These are the earth's major bodies of salt water which extend between the continents.

A sea, on the other hand, is smaller than an ocean, but since it adjoins an ocean, or may be within an ocean, the confusion is only natural. A sea can have rather indefinite borders, such as the Caribbean Sea, the Barents Sea and the Philippine Sea. Or it can be strictly defined, such as the Red Sea or the Black Sea.

Of the five oceans, the Pacific is by far the largest, covering about 64 million square miles. Also the deepest ocean, its average depth is about 13,000 feet, and its greatest known depth is 37,782 feet. About half the size of the Pacific, the Atlantic Ocean extends from the Arctic to the Antarctic regions, and from Europe and Africa on the east, to the Americas on the west.

The Indian Ocean, the third largest, lies south of the equator and forms two large indentations in the southern coast of Asia — the Arabian Sea and the Bay of Bengal. The Antarctic Ocean, which some geographers consider merely part of the southern regions of the Atlantic, Indian and Pacific oceans, varies in width from 700 miles to 2,400 miles.

The smallest ocean, the Arctic, encircles the North Pole and is about a tenth the area of the Pacific. Many geographers consider the Arctic a part of the Atlantic rather than a separate body of water.

The five oceans cover about 70 per cent of the earth's surface. When we include the seas, this becomes almost three quarters of 75 per cent. The largest sea is the 1,145,100-square-mile Mediterranean, which is nearly landlocked between Europe, Asia and Africa. Connected in the west to the Atlantic Ocean by the narrow Strait of Gibraltar, its eastern outlet, to the Red Sea, is by way of the Suez Canal.

One of the largest, most beautiful seas in the world is the Caribbean. An extension of the Atlantic Ocean, it covers 750,000 square miles and is bounded by the coasts of Central and South America and the major islands of the West Indies. Named for the Carib Indians, who once lived on the smaller islands, the sea is famous for its blue crystal-clear water.

Andy sends a Student Globe to Brian McGillivray, 11, of Ottawa, Ont., Canada, for his question:

WHO DISCOVERED THE CURE FOR RABIES?

Rabies, a very serious disease passed on to man by dogs and other warm blooded animals, is caused by a tiny organism called a virus. It attacks the nervous system and, if untreated, may be fatal. In 1885, Louis Pasteur, a French chemist and biologist, treated two boys who had been bitten by rabid dogs.

The vaccine treatment, the first of its kind, proved successful. People around the world contributed money to establish the Pasteur Institute in Paris, a place where Pasteur continued his vital research, and where important work is still being done today.

Strictly speaking, Pasteur's vaccine did not cure rabies. It did, however, enable the victim to build up an immunity against the disease. Rabies takes an average of 50 to 60 days to develop. The vaccine, given once a day for 14 days, takes effect immediately, allowing the body ample time to build up its defenses.

In 1973, the World Health Organization announced the development of a new rabies vaccine, one which requires only one injection.

Winning one-shot finesse

Here is a hand that helped decide the finals of the 1945 Spingold Cup. Both teams reached six spades on identical bidding and the same opening lead was made.

At trick two a low trump was led. The winning declarer rose with his king of trumps plucked West's queen and made his slam. The other one played the jack and was one down.

After the match the losing declarer complained about his bad luck, but it wasn't bad luck. It was bad play.

This 1945 complaint would not have been made today. At least, not by an expert.

This particular single-suit play is too well known. When you ifnd yourself in dummy for one time and one time only, you have to make the best of your one lead.

The king play was the best chance. Consider all cases where West holds a singleton. The jack play is never going to win. The king play will win if that singleton is the queen.

Now suppose there is an extra entry to dummy. Then it's quite different. The king play will win against a singleton queen only, but will lose against a singleton ace, seven or four in West's hand.

An Arizona reader wants to know what you should respond to partner's one-club opening bid when you hold:

The 10, 8, 7, 6, 5 of spades; Ace, king, jack, 3, 2 of hearts; 5, 4 of diamonds, and 2 of clubs.

The correct response is one spade. You plan to bid hearts next unless your partner raises spades. The important thing is to bid your five-card suits in natural order.

Ask Andy

Oceans, seas of the world differ

Andy sends the Encyclopaedia Britannica's 1976 Yearbook of Science and the Future to Mark Choate, 9, of Des Moines, Iowa, for his question:

WHAT IS THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN A SEA AND AN OCEAN?

An ocean is a major body of water. The word "ocean" is included in the names of only five bodies of water in the world — Atlantic, Pacific, Indian, Arctic and Antarctic. These are the earth's major bodies of salt water which extend between the continents.

A sea, on the other hand, is smaller than an ocean, but since it adjoins an ocean, or may be within an ocean, the confusion is only natural. A sea can have rather indefinite borders, such as the Caribbean Sea, the Barents Sea and the Philippine Sea. Or it can be strictly defined, such as the Red Sea or the Black Sea.

Of the five oceans, the Pacific is by far the largest, covering about 64 million square miles. Also the deepest ocean, its average depth is about 13,000 feet, and its greatest known depth is 37,782 feet. About half the size of the Pacific, the Atlantic Ocean extends from the Arctic to the Antarctic regions, and from Europe and Africa on the east, to the Americas on the west.

The Indian Ocean, the third largest, lies south of the equator and forms two large indentations in the southern coast of Asia — the Arabian Sea and the Bay of Bengal. The Antarctic Ocean, which some geographers consider merely part of the southern regions of the Atlantic, Indian and Pacific oceans, varies in width from 700 miles to 2,400 miles.

The smallest ocean, the Arctic, encircles the North Pole and is about a tenth the area of the Pacific. Many geographers consider the Arctic a part of the Atlantic rather than a separate body of water.

The five oceans cover about 70 per cent of the earth's surface. When we include the seas, this becomes almost three quarters of 75 per cent. The largest sea is the 1,145,100-square-mile Mediterranean, which is nearly landlocked between Europe, Asia and Africa. Connected in the west to the Atlantic Ocean by the narrow Strait of Gibraltar, its eastern outlet, to the Red Sea, is by way of the Suez Canal.

One of the largest, most beautiful seas in the world is the Caribbean. An extension of the Atlantic Ocean, it covers 750,000 square miles and is bounded by the coasts of Central and South America and the major islands of the West Indies. Named for the Carib Indians, who once lived on the smaller islands, the sea is famous for its blue crystal-clear water.

Andy sends a Student Globe to Brian McGillivray, 11, of Ottawa, Ont., Canada, for his question:

WHO DISCOVERED THE CURE FOR RABIES?

Rabies, a very serious disease passed on to man by dogs and other warm blooded animals, is caused by a tiny organism called a virus. It attacks the nervous system and, if untreated, may be fatal. In 1885, Louis Pasteur, a French chemist and biologist, treated two boys who had been bitten by rabid dogs.

The vaccine treatment, the first of its kind, proved successful. People around the world contributed money to establish the Pasteur Institute in Paris, a place where Pasteur continued his vital research, and where important work is still being done today.

Strictly speaking, Pasteur's vaccine did not cure rabies. It did, however, enable the victim to build up an immunity against the disease. Rabies takes an average of 50 to 60 days to develop. The vaccine, given once a day for 14 days, takes effect immediately, allowing the body ample time to build up its defenses.

In 1973, the World Health Organization announced the development of a new rabies vaccine, one which requires only one injection.

(Do you have a question to Ask Andy½ Send it on a post card with your name, age and complete address to Ask Andy in care of The Herald, P.O. Box 280, Arlington Heights, Ill., 60006. Entries open to girls and boys 7 to 17.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Ordinance No. 76-3

BE IT ORDAINED by the Board of Park Commissioners of the Buffalo Grove Park District, Cook and Lake Counties and State of Illinois:

SECTION 1. Background

Acts of vandalism resulting in damage to real or personal property within the Park District have increased, posing a threat to the value of property and the welfare of residents. It is in the best interests of the Park District that such acts be prosecuted by the Park District as a local offense; that penalties therefor be imposed which are related to the nature of the act and the type of offender; and that parents or legal guardians of minors found guilty of such acts be held responsible for any monetary penalty or order of restitution or reparation imposed. The diligent pursuit of such interests will tend to increase parental supervision of minors and reduce the incidence of juvenile vandalism, thus advancing the welfare of residents of the Park District.

SECTION 2. Definitions

For the purposes of this Ordinance, the following definitions shall apply:

(a) "Person" shall include any individual, firm, partnership, association, corporation, company or organization of any kind.

(b) "Property" shall include any real estate including improvements thereon, and tangible personalty.

(c) "Legal guardian" shall include a person appointed guardian, or given custody, of a minor by any court of record but does not include a person appointed guardian, or given custody of a minor under the Illinois Juvenile Court Act.

(d) "Minor" shall be a person who has attained eleven (11) years of age but who has not yet reached nineteen (19) years of age.

SECTION 3. Offenses

Within the corporate limits of the Park District no person shall:

(a) Knowingly or recklessly damage any property of another person without his consent; or

(b) Knowingly and without authority enter into or obtain control over any motor vehicle, bicycle, aircraft or water craft or any part thereof of another person without his consent.

SECTION 4. Penalty

Every person found guilty of an offense shall be subject to either or both of the following penalties:

(a) A fine not in excess of Five Hundred Dollars ($500);

(b) A period of conditional discharge not to exceed one (1) year.

(1) The conditions of a conditional discharge shall include that the defendant:

(i) Not violate any criminal statute or quasi-criminal ordinance of any jurisdiction; and

(ii) Report to and appear in person before such person or agency as directed by the court.

(2) The conditions of conditional discharge may, in addition, require that the defendant:

(i) Work or pursue a course of study or vocational training;

(ii) Undergo medical or psychiatric treatment, or treatment for drug addiction or alcoholism;

(iii) Make restitution or reparation in an amount not to exceed actual loss or damage to property and pecuniary loss; and

(iv) If a minor, to reside with his parent or in a foster home; attend school; attend a non-residential program for youth; or contribute to his own support at home or in a foster home.

(v) May modify the conditions of a conditional discharge on motion of the Park District or on its own motion or at the request of the offender after notice to all parties and a hearing.

(3) If the court finds that the offender has violated a condition at any time prior to the expiration or termination of the period, it may continue the offender on the existing period, with or without modifying or enlarging the conditions, or may impose any other penalty that was available at the time of the initial penalty.

(4) A judgment revoking probation or conditional discharge is a final appealable order.

SECTION 5. Liability of Parent or Legal Guardian of Minor Offender.

The parent or legal guardian of an unemancipated minor defendant who resides with such parent or legal guardian shall be liable for any fine or condition of restitution or reparation imposed by a court upon a minor for violation of this Ordinance, provided that said minor has not paid said fine or made restitution or reparation within the time ordered by the court, and further provided that said parent or legal guardian has been served with summons or notice to appear in the original cause and all proceedings thereafter as provided by law.

SECTION 6. Severability

If any provision of this Ordinance or application thereof to any person or circumstances shall be held invalid, such invalidity shall not affect other provisions or applications of this Ordinance which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application and to this end, the provisions of this Ordinance are declared to be severable.

(3) When a court orders restitution or reparation as a condition for a conditional discharge, the court shall determine the amount and conditions of payment. When the conditions of payment have not been satisfied, the court, at any time prior to the expiration or termination of the period of conditional discharge may impose an additional period of not more than two (2) years. Only the conditions of payment shall continue to apply during such additional period. The court shall retain all of the incidents of the original sentence, including the authority to modify or enlarge the original conditions and to revoke the penalty of conditional discharge if the conditions of payment are violated during such additional period.

(4) When a petition is filed charging a violation of a condition imposed for conditional discharge, the court:

(i) May order a summons to the offender to appear; or order a warrant for the offender's arrest where there is danger of his fleeing the jurisdiction or causing serious harm to others or when the offender fails to answer a summons.

The issuance of such warrant or summons shall stay the sentence of conditional discharge until the final determination of the charge, and the term of conditional discharge shall not run so long as the offender has not answered the summons or warrant.

(ii) Shall conduct a hearing of the alleged violation. The Court may admit the offender to bail pending the hearing.

(iii) Shall receive evidence in open court with the right of confrontation, cross-examination and representation by counsel. The Park District has the burden of going forward with the evidence and proving the violation by the preponderance of the evidence.

(iv) Shall not revoke a conditional discharge for failure to comply with conditions of a sentence which imposes financial obligations upon the offender unless such failure is due to his willful refusal to pay.

SECTION 7. Effective Date

This Ordinance shall be in full force and effect upon its passage and publication in accordance with State Statutes. This Ordinance may be published in pamphlet form.

5-yr.-old leukemia victim buried with 2 stuffed tigers

SHERMAN, Tex. (UPI) — Five-year-old Jamie Thomas was buried Tuesday clutching two stuffed tigers — one for himself and one for his hospital playmate he hoped to meet in heaven.

Jamie, the oldest of three children in his home in this north Texas city, died Saturday of leukemia.

"We told him that when he died there would be no pain, no harm, no hurt and that he could play all the time," his mother said.

HE WAS BURIED Tuesday following a brief service attended by two dozen relatives and their friends.

His stepfather, mechanic Harold Karr, and his mother, a part-time cosmetics saleswoman, told Jamie he was going to die and let him pick out the headstone decorating his grave in Akers Cemetery.

"He told us he was scared, but we tried to make him look forward to it (his death); to make it as rosy as possible," Karr said.

The child had been in almost constant pain just before he died and had to be kept drugged.

JAMIE ASKED to be buried with his favorite toy — a stuffed tiger he called "Tigger." He asked for a second stuffed animal to take to his friend, Ronnie, who died of leukemia two weeks ago.

The Karrs and two female friends, accompanied by another friend on an accoustic guitar, sang a final eulogy to Jamie — an untitled song composed by Karr:

"Most fathers want their sons to grow up to be doctors, laywers and the like;

"I just want my son to grow up to ride a bike . . .

"The doctors have said they may find a cure tomorrow,

"But if our son dies today will that help our sorrow?"

The Karrs have received $14 in donations toward the $1,000 in unpaid medical bills and burial expenses.

Ordinance No. 76-3

BE IT ORDAINED by the Board of Park Commissioners of the Buffalo Grove Park District, Cook and Lake Counties and State of Illinois:

SECTION 1. Background

Acts of vandalism resulting in damage to real or personal property within the Park District have increased, posing a threat to the value of property and the welfare of residents. It is in the best interests of the Park District that such acts be prosecuted by the Park District as a local offense; that penalties therefor be imposed which are related to the nature of the act and the type of offender; and that parents or legal guardians of minors found guilty of such acts be held responsible for any monetary penalty or order of restitution or reparation imposed. The diligent pursuit of such interests will tend to increase parental supervision of minors and reduce the incidence of juvenile vandalism, thus advancing the welfare of residents of the Park District.

SECTION 2. Definitions

(b) "Property" shall include any real estate including improvements thereon, and tangible personalty.

(c) "Legal guardian" shall include a person appointed guardian, or given custody, of a minor by any court of record but does not include a person appointed guardian, or given custody of a minor under the Illinois Juvenile Court Act.

(d) "Minor" shall be a person who has attained eleven (11) years of age but who has not yet reached nineteen (19) years of age.

SECTION 3. Offenses

(2) The conditions of conditional discharge may, in addition, require that the defendant:

(v) May modify the conditions of a conditional discharge on motion of the Park District or on its own motion or at the request of the offender after notice to all parties and a hearing.

(3) If the court finds that the offender has violated a condition at any time prior to the expiration or termination of the period, it may continue the offender on the existing period, with or without modifying or enlarging the conditions, or may impose any other penalty that was available at the time of the initial penalty.

(4) A judgment revoking probation or conditional discharge is a final appealable order.

SECTION 5. Liability of Parent or Legal Guardian of Minor Offender.

The parent or legal guardian of an unemancipated minor defendant who resides with such parent or legal guardian shall be liable for any fine or condition of restitution or reparation imposed by a court upon a minor for violation of this Ordinance, provided that said minor has not paid said fine or made restitution or reparation within the time ordered by the court, and further provided that said parent or legal guardian has been served with summons or notice to appear in the original cause and all proceedings thereafter as provided by law.

SECTION 6. Severability

(3) When a court orders restitution or reparation as a condition for a conditional discharge, the court shall determine the amount and conditions of payment. When the conditions of payment have not been satisfied, the court, at any time prior to the expiration or termination of the period of conditional discharge may impose an additional period of not more than two (2) years. Only the conditions of payment shall continue to apply during such additional period. The court shall retain all of the incidents of the original sentence, including the authority to modify or enlarge the original conditions and to revoke the penalty of conditional discharge if the conditions of payment are violated during such additional period.

(iii) Shall receive evidence in open court with the right of confrontation, cross-examination and representation by counsel. The Park District has the burden of going forward with the evidence and proving the violation by the preponderance of the evidence.

(iv) Shall not revoke a conditional discharge for failure to comply with conditions of a sentence which imposes financial obligations upon the offender unless such failure is due to his wilful refusal to pay.

5-yr.-old leukemia victim buried with 2 stuffed tigers

SHERMAN, Tex. (UPI) — Five-year-old Jamie Thomas was buried Tuesday clutching two stuffed tigers — one for himself and one for his hospital playmate he hoped to meet in heaven.

Jamie, the oldest of three children in his home in this north Texas city, died Saturday of leukemia.

"We told him that when he died there would be no pain, no harm, no hurt and that he could play all the time," his mother said.

HE WAS BURIED Tuesday following a brief service attended by two dozen relatives and their friends.

His stepfather, mechanic Harold Karr, and his mother, a part-time cosmetics saleswoman, told Jamie he was going to die and let him pick out the headstone decorating his grave in Akers Cemetery.

"He told us he was scared, but we tried to make him look forward to it (his death); to make it as rosy as possible," Karr said.

The child had been in almost constant pain just before he died and had to be kept drugged.

JAMIE ASKED to be buried with his favorite toy — a stuffed tiger he called "Tigger." He asked for a second stuffed animal to take to his friend, Ronnie, who died of leukemia two weeks ago.

The Karrs and two female friends, accompanied by another friend on an accoustic guitar, sang a final eulogy to Jamie — an untitled song composed by Karr:

"Most fathers want their sons to grow up to be doctors, laywers and the like;

"I just want my son to grow up to ride a bike . . .

"The doctors have said they may find a cure tomorrow,

"But if our son dies today will that help our sorrow?"

The Karrs have received $14 in donations toward the $1,000 in unpaid medical bills and burial expenses.

Wheeling hits cold spell in 55-50 loss

by KEITH REINHARD

A third quarter Wheeling cold spell allowed Addison Trail a comeback opportunity and the Blazers took full advantage of it, notching a 55-50 win over the visiting Wildcats Tuesday to launch basketball in the area for 1976-77.

A scrappy young 'Cat outfit dominated the first half and couldn't be counted out even after the hosts had rallied in the third and fourth periods behind skyscrapers Bob Kowsky (6-7) and Mark Anderson (6-6).

Wheeling held onto leads of varying degrees from two minutes into the second quarter until the final two minutes of the game. Kowsky's bucket underneath hiked Addison into a 49-47 advantage with 2:11 remaining on the clock and Anderson hit a pair of outside jumpers afterwards to cement the victory.

"BALL HANDLING was our downfall," sighed 'Cat coach Ted Ecker. "The kids scrapped and played excellent defense . . . especially in light of the fact that we haven't done any work with zones yet. We committed far too many unnecessary turnovers, though."

Wheeling, with no one on the team over 6-3, was still able to control the tempo of the contest while moving ahead 12-10 at the quarter and 31-25 by intermission. Early in the third stanza Ken Paulus rebounded his own missed shot and plunked it in and Brian Begrowicz hit inside for a commanding 35-25 edge.

It was a short-lived bulge however. The Blazers outscored the hosts 8-2 over the next two minutes to pull within range and finished up the third quarter trailing by a narrow 37-36 margin.

ADDISION WENT UP by a point to open the fourth quarter but Jim Sabal answered with an eight-footer for the visitors. Begrowicz and Sabal then each added a pair of free tosses to the 'Cat cause and the gap was up to five again.

Two short range field goals by the Blazers were proceded by Rick Heredia's 15-footer and two more charity shots by Sabal, allowing for a 47-42 'Cat lead with 3:31 to go.

Anderson answered back by collecting a three-point play and the Blazers picked up two more free throws to set the stage for Kowsky's go-ahead basket.

Kowsky and Anderson finished with 18 points each. No one else in their lineup had more than one field goal.

SABAL ALSO PACED the Wildcats with 18 points, clicking on 10 of 11 from the line en route. Begrowicz pitched in with a dozen more points while Paulus and Jim Lockafeer each had six.

There were 47 fouls whistled during the game and while all of Addision's starters had four personals through most of the fourth quarter, only one guard was eventually whistled to the sidelines.

White Sox president Bill Veeck crowns Bob Lemon his new manager Tuesday.

Mustangs dominate volleyball showdown

by PAUL LOGAN

The Rolling Meadows Mustangs added another big name to their list of volleyball victims Tuesday night — Prospect.

Extending their victory string to six, the Mustangs of Coach Elaine Wissen overpowered the defending Mid-Suburban League South Division champion Knights at the Prospect fieldhouse, 20-8, 20-5.

In other area action, it was Palatine over Wheeling 21-19, 20-16, Elk Grove over Conant 17-20, 20-16, 20-15, Schaumburg over Hoffman Estates 20-9, 20-7, Buffalo Grove over Fremd 20-16, 20-7, and Forest View over Maine West 20-7, 20-9.

"THEY PLAYED pretty well tonight," said Wissen. "They had some real touch competition so far this season and they've measured up to it."

The Mustangs boast a veteran team with all but one player returning from last year. They opened the season against Buffalo Grove, one of the top teams in the North Division, and won handily, 20-17, 20-13.

Next came Morgan Park, loaded with five starters from a team that reached the state tourney quarterfinals last season.

"They are a super team," said Wissen, who added her team was very fortunate to win, 12-20, 20-10, 21-19. "We wanted to play a team of that caliber to see what we could do. It was a big lift for us."

FROM THERE the Mustangs cruised past defending MSL champ Hersey (20-18, 20-6), rugged Arlington (20-2, 13-20, 20-12), Conant (20-9, 20-14) and then Prospect.

Thanks in part to the strong serving of Carol Emerich, Daria Haliw and Miriam Quinnett, Meadows jumped out to a commanding 13-4 lead. A couple of sizzling pikes by Pam Klein and JoAnn Wissen helped set the tempo.

With Pat Allare serving and a sensational diving, one-hand save by Pam Mache, the Knights of Coach Sandy Pifer cut the lead to 13-7. But the Mustangs regained their sharp edge with Klein finishing off the Knights with three strong serves.

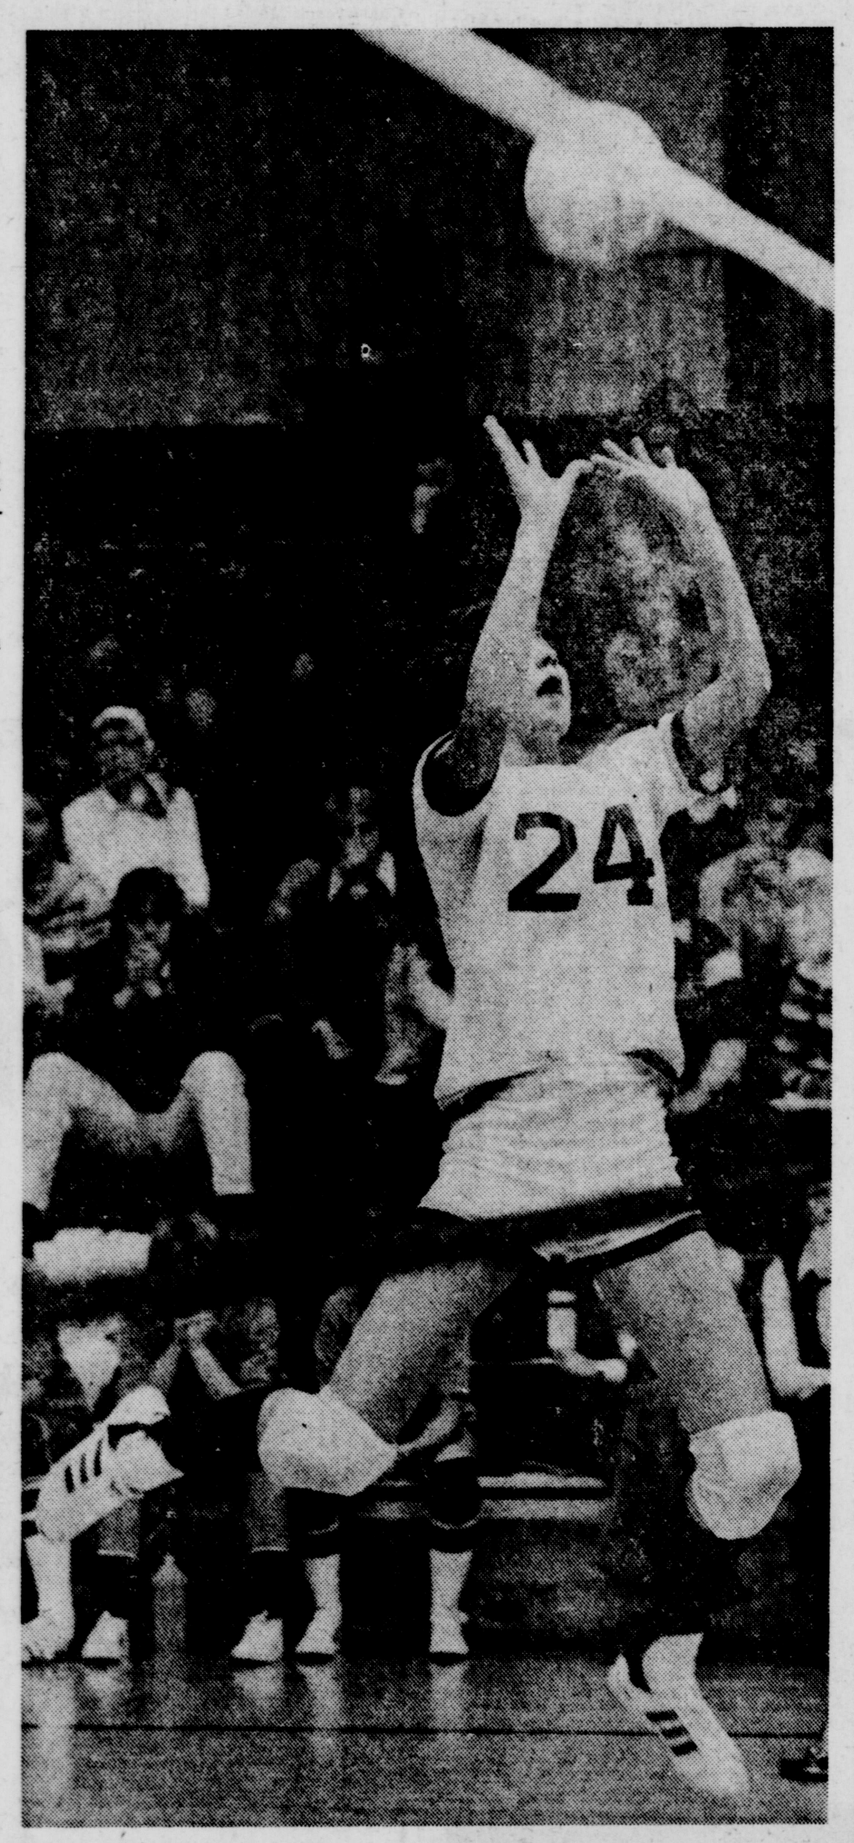
Meadows blocked and spiked its way to a 15-3 bulge in the second game. Again, Kelin helped finish off Prospect with her four serves. A superb block by Quinnett highlighted the final Mustang flurry of points.

WISSEN DIDN'T wish to single out anyone because "all of them have been doing something special in every game."

"We played terribly," said Pifer. "We just don't have it together yet.

"I don't think you can take anything away from Rolling Meadows. They had some very good blocks."

The Knights' over-all record dropped to 1-2. Lisa Young played well in the losing cause, especially in passing and spiking.



IT'S A SETUP. Rolling Meadows' Pam Klein makes her move during a match at Prospect Tuesday night. Klein and her Mustang teammates dominated the Mid-Suburban League South Division contest, winning 20-8, 20-5. The Mustangs' record is 6-0. The Knights, who won the South title last season, are 1-2 on the season.

Women coaches win fight in sex discrimination case

MADISON, Wis. (UPI) — A state commission Tuesday ordered the Lake Mills School District to stop paying its girls' track coaches less than it pays its boys' coaches.

The commission heading the Department of Industry, Labor and Human Relations affirmed a hearing examiner's decision in the sex discrimination case. Back pay totaling $670 was ordered for the two girls' track coaches.

Mary Ann Graunke, head girls' track coach, and Barbara J. Petruska, her assistant, charged they were paid less than the men who coached the boys. During 1974-75 they got $350 and $275, respectively, while the men were paid $500 and $440.

"The girls' head and assistant track coach positions called for essentially the same skills, experience, responsibilities, conditions, time expenditures, and efforts and the boys' head and assistant track coach positions, respectively, during the two school years in question," said Hearing Examiner Barbara E. Hoffman.

"The difference in compensation between the male and female head and assistant track coaches was based solely upon sex," she said.

Bob Lemon named new Sox skipper

by BOB GALLAS

Bill Veeck, who last year tapped old friend Paul Richards to pilot the White Sox did it again Tuesday by naming friend and Hall of Fame pitcher Bob Lemon to manage the Sox next season.

Lemon, 56, who a week ago had not even been contacted by the White Sox organization, was a coach with the pennant-winning New York Yankees last season. He replaces the 68-year-old Richards, who Veeck said will remain with the club as a consultant.

Although some announcement on the Sox managerial situation was considered long overdue, the appointment of Lemon still came as a surprise, thanks to the cloak and dagger tactics of Veeck, who made the announcement from Illinois Masonic Hospital where he'll undergo surgery Thursday morning.

"LEMON DID an extremely creditable job with the Yankees, and I feel he'll prove to be the manager we need," said Veeck. "I feel we are fortunate to have him as manager."

Lemon said he was first contacted by the Sox a week ago through club vice-president, Roland Hemond. Monday night, Lemon quietly arrived in Chicago to close the deal with Veeck.

"The way I got up here to see Veeck reminded me of when I was a player and would sneak and hide from Lou Boudreau," said Lemon, who was seven times a 20-game winner with the Indians in the late 1940's and 50's.

The naming of Lemon as manager brought reserved comment from Sox players.

"I KNOW HE WAS a player, but other than that I don't know a thing about him," said White Sox pitcher Larry Monroe from his Mount Prospect home. "At least he'll be able to tell me the things I'm doing wrong," said Monroe, who was a baby in 1958, Lemon's last year as a player.

"And maybe I'll get a chance to pitch. I just don't think Richards cared for me much," said Monroe.

Sox shortstop Bucky Dent, who works for an Elk Grove Village company, also knew little about his new boss.

"I just went down at lunch to meet with him," said Dent. "From what I've heard he's a good manager and a very nice guy, but I don't know much about him personally."

TOWARD THE end of the season, there were clubhouse rumblings about a "generation gap" between Richards and some of the younger players on the Sox, but Dent expressed regret at Richards' departure.

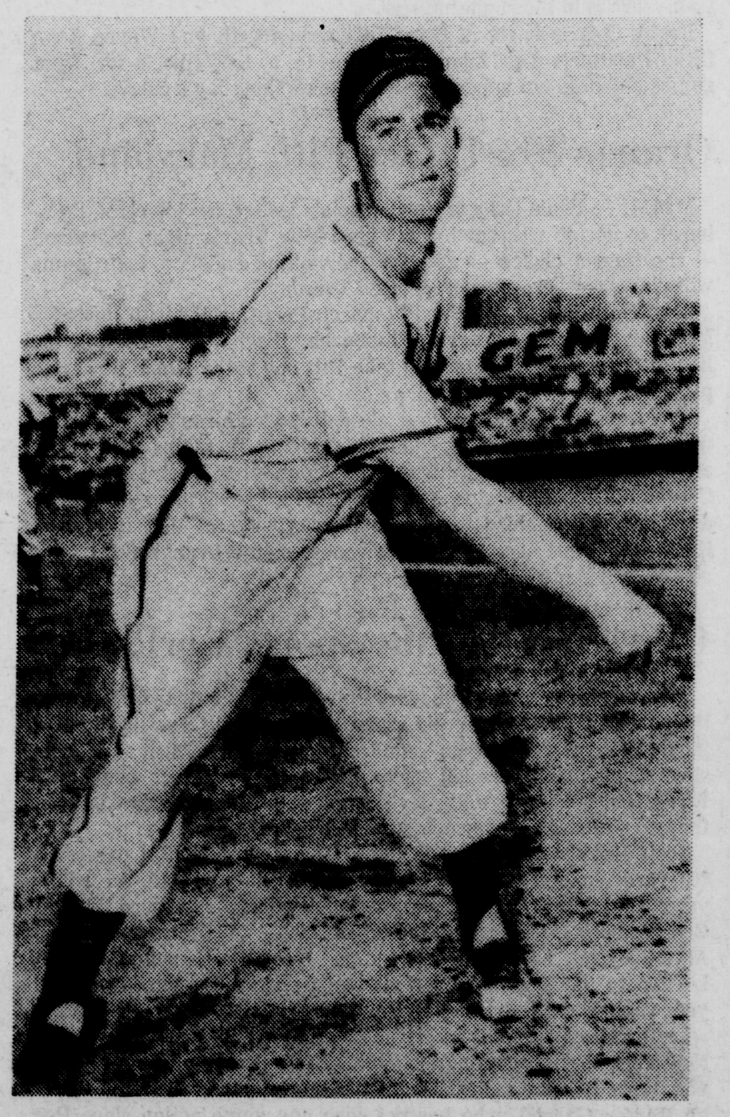
"I really thought a lot of Paul Richards. I knew he was just fulfilling a commitment to Bill Veeck. It was tough on him, the travel and being away from his golf games," said Dent. "I think it really caught up with him toward the end of the season."

Lemon played for the Indians when Veeck owned a major part of the team, which was then managed by Boudreau. His major league managing experience came at Kansas City, where he managed the Royals from 1970-72. He piloted the Royals to a second-place finish in his first full year at the helm with an 85-76 record in 1971. The Royals slipped to fourth at 76-78 in 1972 and Lemon was replaced by Jack McKeon.

LEMON'S BEST performance as a professional manager was in 1966 when he piloted Seattle of the Pacific Coast League to a first place finish with an 83-65 record.

Veeck, who's been in the hospital for two weeks, first because of the flu and now because of impending spinal surgery, said the Sox hope to sign as many as two of the free agent ballplayers whose services are now on the open market, and Lemon said he'd take any of them.

"I'm very happy with the young arms we have, and I think we could field a pretty good young ball club," said Lemon. "If we can get a couple of fellows (free agents) we can scare the hell out of somebody."



Chicago's adopted Hall of Famer's a winner.

Wheeling hits cold spell in 55-50 loss

by KEITH REINHARD

A third quarter Wheeling cold spell allowed Addison Trail a comeback opportunity and the Blazers took full advantage of it, notching a 55-50 win over the visiting Wildcats Tuesday to launch basketball in the area for 1976-77.

A scrappy young 'Cat outfit dominated the first half and couldn't be counted out even after the hosts had rallied in the third and fourth periods behind skyscrapers Bob Kowsky (6-7) and Mark Anderson (6-6).

Wheeling held onto leads of varying degrees from two minutes into the second quarter until the final two minutes of the game. Kowsky's bucket underneath hiked Addison into a 49-47 advantage with 2:11 remaining on the clock and Anderson hit a pair of outside jumpers afterwards to cement the victory.

"BALL HANDLING was our downfall," sighed 'Cat coach Ted Ecker. "The kids scrapped and played excellent defense . . . especially in light of the fact that we haven't done any work with zones yet. We committed far too many unnecessary turnovers, though."

Wheeling, with no one on the team over 6-3, was still able to control the tempo of the contest while moving ahead 12-10 at the quarter and 31-25 by intermission. Early in the third stanza Ken Paulus rebounded his own missed shot and plunked it in and Brian Begrowicz hit inside for a commanding 35-25 edge.

It was a short-lived bulge however. The Blazers outscored the hosts 8-2 over the next two minutes to pull within range and finished up the third quarter trailing by a narrow 37-36 margin.

ADDISION WENT UP by a point to open the fourth quarter but Jim Sabal answered with an eight-footer for the visitors. Begrowicz and Sabal then each added a pair of free tosses to the 'Cat cause and the gap was up to five again.

Two short range field goals by the Blazers were proceded by Rick Heredia's 15-footer and two more charity shots by Sabal, allowing for a 47-42 'Cat lead with 3:31 to go.

Anderson answered back by collecting a three-point play and the Blazers picked up two more free throws to set the stage for Kowsky's go-ahead basket.

Kowsky and Anderson finished with 18 points each. No one else in their lineup had more than one field goal.

SABAL ALSO PACED the Wildcats with 18 points, clicking on 10 of 11 from the line en route. Begrowicz pitched in with a dozen more points while Paulus and Jim Lockafeer each had six.

There were 47 fouls whistled during the game and while all of Addision's starters had four personals through most of the fourth quarter, only one guard was eventually whistled to the sidelines.

White Sox president Bill Veeck crowns Bob Lemon his new manager Tuesday.

Bob Lemon named new Sox skipper

by BOB GALLAS

Bill Veeck, who last year tapped old friend Paul Richards to pilot the White Sox did it again Tuesday by naming friend and Hall of Fame pitcher Bob Lemon to manage the Sox next season.

Lemon, 56, who a week ago had not even been contacted by the White Sox organization, was a coach with the pennant-winning New York Yankees last season. He replaces the 68-year-old Richards, who Veeck said will remain with the club as a consultant.

Although some announcement on the Sox managerial situation was considered long overdue, the appointment of Lemon still came as a surprise, thanks to the cloak and dagger tactics of Veeck, who made the announcement from Illinois Masonic Hospital where he'll undergo surgery Thursday morning.

"LEMON DID an extremely creditable job with the Yankees, and I feel he'll prove to be the manager we need," said Veeck. "I feel we are fortunate to have him as manager."

Lemon said he was first contacted by the Sox a week ago through club vice-president, Roland Hemond. Monday night, Lemon quietly arrived in Chicago to close the deal with Veeck.

"The way I got up here to see Veeck reminded me of when I was a player and would sneak and hide from Lou Boudreau," said Lemon, who was seven times a 20-game winner with the Indians in the late 1940's and 50's.

The naming of Lemon as manager brought reserved comment from Sox players.

"I KNOW HE WAS a player, but other than that I don't know a thing about him," said White Sox pitcher Larry Monroe from his Mount Prospect home. "At least he'll be able to tell me the things I'm doing wrong," said Monroe, who was a baby in 1958, Lemon's last year as a player.

"And maybe I'll get a chance to pitch. I just don't think Richards cared for me much," said Monroe.

Sox shortstop Bucky Dent, who works for an Elk Grove Village company, also knew little about his new boss.

"I just went down at lunch to meet with him," said Dent. "From what I've heard he's a good manager and a very nice guy, but I don't know much about him personally."

TOWARD THE end of the season, there were clubhouse rumblings about a "generation gap" between Richards and some of the younger players on the Sox, but Dent expressed regret at Richards' departure.

"I really thought a lot of Paul Richards. I knew he was just fulfilling a commitment to Bill Veeck. It was tough on him, the travel and being away from his golf games," said Dent. "I think it really caught up with him toward the end of the season."

Lemon played for the Indians when Veeck owned a major part of the team, which was then managed by Boudreau. His major league managing experience came at Kansas City, where he managed the Royals from 1970-72. He piloted the Royals to a second-place finish in his first full year at the helm with an 85-76 record in 1971. The Royals slipped to fourth at 76-78 in 1972 and Lemon was replaced by Jack McKeon.

LEMON'S BEST performance as a professional manager was in 1966 when he piloted Seattle of the Pacific Coast League to a first place finish with an 83-65 record.

"I'm very happy with the young arms we have, and I think we could field a pretty good young ball club," said Lemon. "If we can get a couple of fellows (free agents) we can scare the hell out of somebody."

Mustangs dominate volleyball showdown

by PAUL LOGAN

The Rolling Meadows Mustangs added another big name to their list of volleyball victims Tuesday night — Prospect.

Extending their victory string to six, the Mustangs of Coach Elaine Wissen overpowered the defending Mid-Suburban League South Division champion Knights at the Prospect fieldhouse, 20-8, 20-5.

In other area action, it was Palatine over Wheeling 21-19, 20-16, Elk Grove over Conant 17-20, 20-16, 20-15, Schaumburg over Hoffman Estates 20-9, 20-7, Buffalo Grove over Fremd 20-16, 20-7, and Forest View over Maine West 20-7, 20-9.

"THEY PLAYED pretty well tonight," said Wissen. "They had some real touch competition so far this season and they've measured up to it."

The Mustangs boast a veteran team with all but one player returning from last year. They opened the season against Buffalo Grove, one of the top teams in the North Division, and won handily, 20-17, 20-13.

Next came Morgan Park, loaded with five starters from a team that reached the state tourney quarterfinals last season.

"They are a super team," said Wissen, who added her team was very fortunate to win, 12-20, 20-10, 21-19. "We wanted to play a team of that caliber to see what we could do. It was a big lift for us."

FROM THERE the Mustangs cruised past defending MSL champ Hersey (20-18, 20-6), rugged Arlington (20-2, 13-20, 20-12), Conant (20-9, 20-14) and then Prospect.

Thanks in part to the strong serving of Carol Emerich, Daria Haliw and Miriam Quinnett, Meadows jumped out to a commanding 13-4 lead. A couple of sizzling pikes by Pam Klein and JoAnn Wissen helped set the tempo.

With Pat Allare serving and a sensational diving, one-hand save by Pam Mache, the Knights of Coach Sandy Pifer cut the lead to 13-7. But the Mustangs regained their sharp edge with Klein finishing off the Knights with three strong serves.

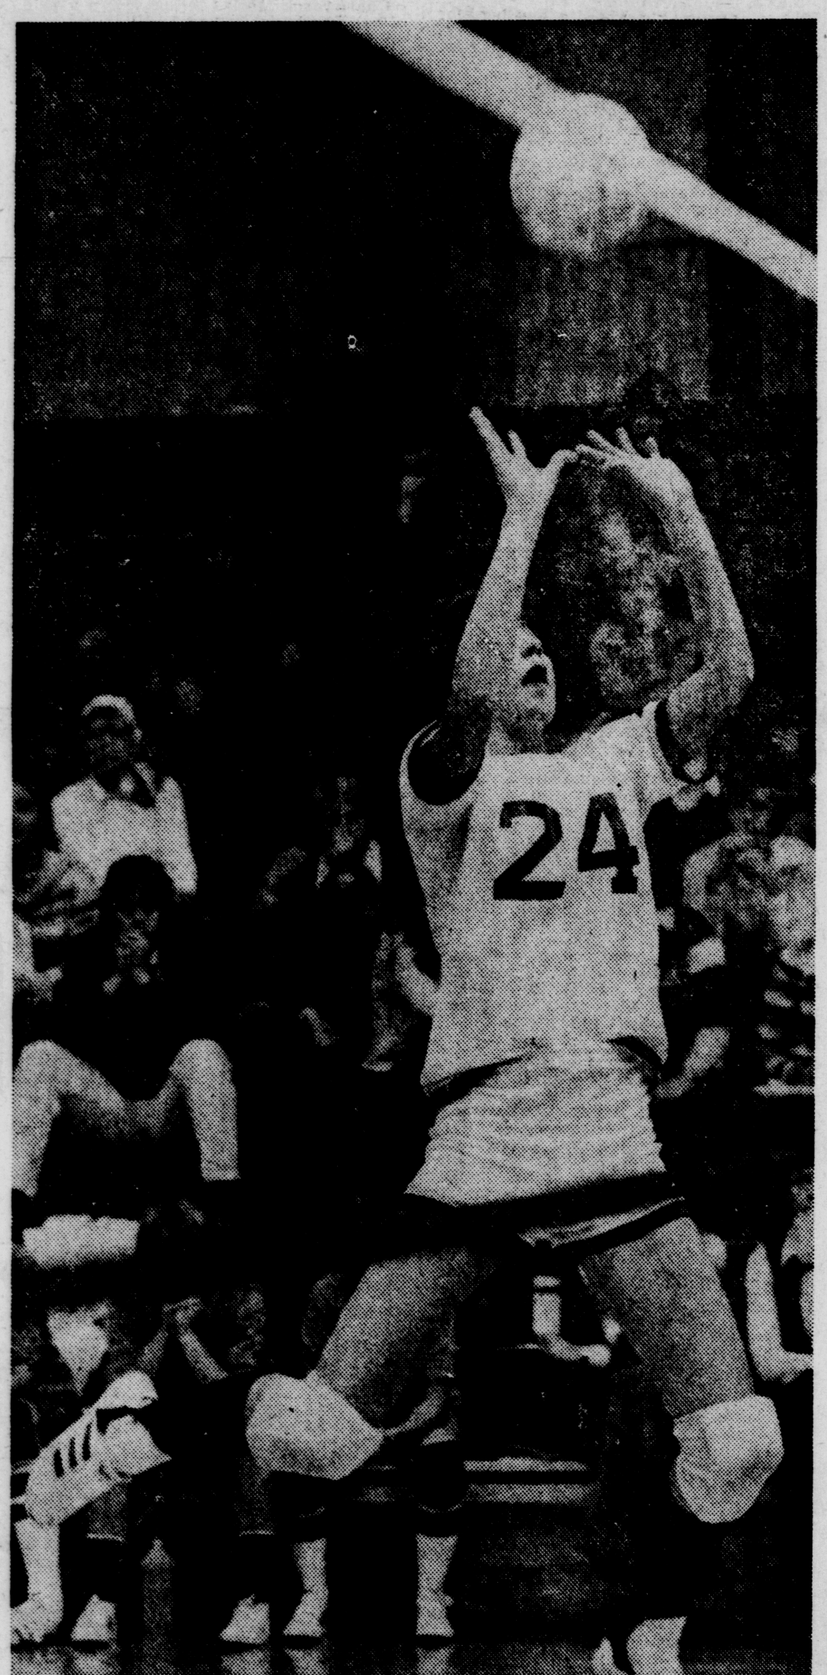
Meadows blocked and spiked its way to a 15-3 bulge in the second game. Again, Kelin helped finish off Prospect with her four serves. A superb block by Quinnett highlighted the final Mustang flurry of points.

WISSEN DIDN'T wish to single out anyone because "all of them have been doing something special in every game."

"We played terribly," said Pifer. "We just don't have it together yet.

"I don't think you can take anything away from Rolling Meadows. They had some very good blocks."

The Knights' over-all record dropped to 1-2. Lisa Young played well in the losing cause, especially in passing and spiking.



IT'S A SETUP. Rolling Meadows' Pam Klein makes her move during a match at Prospect Tuesday night. Klein and her Mustang teammates dominated the Mid-Suburban League South Division contest, winning 20-8, 20-5. The Mustangs' record is 6-0. The Knights, who won the South title last season, are 1-2 on the season.

Women coaches win fight in sex discrimination case

MADISON, Wis. (UPI) — A state commission Tuesday ordered the Lake Mills School District to stop paying its girls' track coaches less than it pays its boys' coaches.

The commission heading the Department of Industry, Labor and Human Relations affirmed a hearing examiner's decision in the sex discrimination case. Back pay totaling $670 was ordered for the two girls' track coaches.

Mary Ann Graunke, head girls' track coach, and Barbara J. Petruska, her assistant, charged they were paid less than the men who coached the boys. During 1974-75 they got $350 and $275, respectively, while the men were paid $500 and $440.

"The girls' head and assistant track coach positions called for essentially the same skills, experience, responsibilities, conditions, time expenditures, and efforts and the boys' head and assistant track coach positions, respectively, during the two school years in question," said Hearing Examiner Barbara E. Hoffman.

"The difference in compensation between the male and female head and assistant track coaches was based solely upon sex," she said.

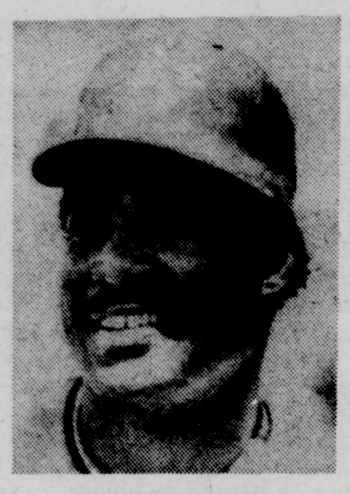
GENE TENACE



DON BAYLOR

Angels sign Baylor; Tenace joins Padres

PROVIDENCE, R. I. — Gene Tenace signed with the San Diego Padres and Don Baylor agreed to terms with the California Angels today as the three-time champion Oakland A's continued to crumble under the defection of star players.

Tenace, a catcher-first baseman, told a news conference he had signed a multi-year contract with the Padres. The announcement came one hour after it was announced by agent Jerry Kapstein that Baylor, a power-hitting outfielder, had signed with the Angels.

They become the second and third free agents to reach agreements with new clubs since the Nov. 4 free agent draft. Pitcher Bill Campbell, formerly with Minnesota, signed a multi-year contract 11 days ago with the Boston Red Sox.

"I can't predict my offensive statistics but I can guarantee to the people of San Diego that when I put a uniform on, I will give 110 per cent," Tenace said at the news conference called near Kapstein's Providence office. Unable to reach contract agreement with Finley, Tenace said, "I have a lot of respect for him and no hard feelings toward him."

American League MVP to Munson

NEW YORK — Thurman Munson, the wheelhorse of the New York Yankees' first pennant-winning season in 12 years, Tuesday was voted the American League's Most Valuable Player by the Baseball Writers Assoc. of America.

Munson, who batted .302 and drove home 102 runs-second in the league, received 18 first place votes from the 24 baseball writers participating in the balloting, four seconds and two thirds for a total of 304 points. George Brett of the Kansas City Royals was second in the voting with 217 points and Munson's teammate, Mickey Rivers, was third with 179½.

Besides achieving his second straight 100-plus RBI season, Munson, 29, also had 79 runs scored. 17 homers and 27 doubles. More significantly, however, was his 152 games played and the fact that he was the only catcher in the AL to both bat over .300 and drive in over 100 runs.

Squeakers highlight pro cage card

Tight games were the order of the night in the National Basketball Assn. Tuesday as the New York Knicks edged Atlanta, 100-97, San Antonio beat Buffalo, 114-112, New Orleans shaded Portland, 100-98 and Kansas City topped Milwaukee, 100-91.

Pete Maravich survived a second-quarter fistfight and scored 35 points to pace New Orleans. Maravich, the NBA's No. 2 scorer, had 15 of his points in the third quarter to bring New Orleans back from a 54-51 halftime deficit for its eighth win in 13 games. Bill Walton led Portland with 21 points.

Bill Bradley hit a long jumper with 1:27 left and Earl Monroe and Walt Frazier sank six free throws in the final nine seconds to lead New York to the winner's circle. The loss extended Atlanta's road losing streak to 26 games. There were five ties and seven lead changes in the fourth quarter. Tom Henderson scored a season-high 27 points for Atlanta.

Larry Kenon dropped in two free throws with two seconds remaining to lift San Antonio. Kenon finished with 25 points, 14 rebounds and three steals. Bob McAdoo spearheaded the Braves with 27 points and 16 rebounds.

Kansas City outscored Milwaukee, 15-5 early in the final quarter to boost their margin for victory. Ron Boone led the Kings with 27 while Elmore Smith and Alex English had 21 for the Bucks.

Carrubba takes World Open pin lead

Rich Carrubba took the second round lead in the $100,00 Brunswick World Open Bowling Tournament Tuesday, bringing his 16-game average to 228. Carrubba, made his total 3,655 or 130 pins better than the PBA's all-time money winner, Dick Weber of St. Louis, who is in the runnerup spot.

Bobby Cooper is third, Gary Dickinson fourth and Wayne Zahn fifth. Palatine's Les Zikes struggled to a 1,477 block for eight games and does not appear likely to make Thursday's cut.

Orange Bowl loses Pitt, Maryland

MIAMI — While Orange Bowl officials waited for top-rated Pittsburgh to decide whether to play here New Year's night, Maryland — the second choice — got tired of waiting and now both teams will play elsewhere, it was reported Tuesday.

The Miami News and the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette both quoted a Memphis source as saying Pittsburgh Coach Johny Majors believes "the only thing that can take Pitt out of the Sugar Bowl is a player revolt."

The News also said sources close to seventh-ranked Maryland, which also is unbeaten and untied, said the Terrapins will accept an invitation to play the Southwest Conference champion in the Cotton Bowl New Year's Day because of the Orange Bowl's indecision. "We decided to align ourselves with the decisiveness of the Cotton Bowl over the indecisiveness of the Orange Bowl," the source was quoted as saying.

Cowboys 13, Steelers 0
The Cowboys ended a 20-game Steeler winning streak and captured the Peewee crown. Mark Binder scored both Cowboy touchdowns on runs of six and 26 yards en route to 116 yards on the day. Eric Mayo added the extra point. Dave Owca, Brian Miller and Marshall Uzzle were standouts while Mike O'Connel's punting kept the Steelers in the hole. Steve Schoenfeld starred both ways for the Steelers.

Falcons 13, Browns 0
Trent Varvil scored on a short pass from Matt Perry and Perry's pass to Paul Lindsay added the extra point. Gary Schneider's blocked punt resulted in Perry scooping up the ball on the 20 and running it in for the score and the Widget championship.

Hoffman 24, Schaumburg 2
Junior Raiders made it 10-0 as Chris Gunderson caught a five-yard pass from John Bernat. The 6-2 halftime score was padded by Dan Pelligrino's scoring runs of 78 and 52 yards and Robbie Sopkins recovery of a blocked punt. Robert Mars intercepted and fumbles were recovered by Jim Connell (2) and Sopkins. Sopkin, Connell and John Berg had QB sacks.

Glen Ellyn 25, Rangers 13
Rich Krautter scored on a three-yard burst and Jim Berg added a two-yard sprint in the waning minutes. Berg ran for the conversion. Krautter, Matt Vlasaty and Roland Transon looked good on defense.

Bills highlights

Lightweight Bills 14, Cary Grove Trojans 0
Before a large crowd Sunday at Cary Grove the Bills finished their regular season undefeated with a 10-0-0 record and the championship of the Tri County Junior Football League. The 14-0 win over the Cary Grove Trojans was the Bills eighth shutout of the season.

The Bills wasted no time in scoring their first TD. Following a Trojan punt, QB Doug Nelson moved the Bills 43 yards in just seven plays to the Cary Grove nine. On third and four, Nelson pitched to fullback Larry Tellschow who ran over two defenders into the end zone.

The hard hitting Bills "bad news" defense produced the other TD midway in the third quarter. With a third and 11 situation for Cary at their own 27, Trojan back Jay Smith was hit hard by lineman Tellschow which produced a fumble that was picked up by guard Bobby Veternik who raced 27 yards for the score.

The defense limited Cary to 47 yards rushing as Ron Hofmeister, Rod Haslam, Jeff Albrecht, Steve Frederiksen, Jeff Peterson, along with Nelson, Tellschow, Fish, Veternik, and Brett Hardt played very well.

The Bills now travel to Columbus, Ohio for the Bi-Centennial Junior Football Classic this weekend against the Grove City Falcons — the Ohio State Champs.

Heavyweight Bills 6, Cary Grove Trojans 0
The Tri County Heavyweight championship was a mirror of the entire season for the Bills heavies as defense prevailed in a close 6-0 contest over high-scoring Cary Grove.

After a scoreless first half, when twice the Bills defense held inside their own 15 yard line, a big break occurred. Punter Tom Zeien boomed a 45-yarder down to the Cary three which was downed by flanker Darrell Andre.

For three plays Cary was stopped cold and was forced to punt from their end zone on fourth down. Zeien returned the punt 19 yards to the Grove 11. Then fine power running by backs Joe Coriaci, Steve Russell, and Zeien put the ball on the one where QB Phil Menzel took it in for the TD.

Cary didn't let up, but a pass interception by Paul Heesch, and fumble recoveries by Ken Seminick and Bryan Paull stopped three Cary drives up to the last minute of play. With just 53 seconds remaining, the Trojans attempted a "flea-flicker" play which almost worked had it not been for the game saving tackle by Tom Zeien. Time ran out with Cary on the Bills eight yard line.

Defensively, it was another great effort as Joe Furmanski, Jeff Berg, Brian Weiner and Steve Frederiksen starred. Keying the Bills second straight heavyweight title offensively was Greg Bowen, center Jeff LaCosse and game MVP Tom Zeien.

Bills Widgets 14, Portage Park 6
Rugged Portage Park of the George Halas League, got a taste of Bills football Saturday at Stevenson High School as the Bills prevailed 14-6.

The Bills defense produced the first TD of the game when linebacker Bobby Veternik stole the ball from halfback Tom Romano and ran 36 yards for the score — untouched. Good field position in the second quarter put QB Joe Molloy's offensive unit in gear on a 41-yard scoring drive that took nine plays to run. Fullback Larry Tellschow took a quick pitch to the left and went in from 11 yards out.

In the second half, the Bills kept Portage Park outside their own 30 on some good punting by Scott DuVal. The Bills controlled the second half with a good ground attack that ate up most of the clock.

Coach Paul DuVal praised the defensive 11 for holding Portage Park's high-scoring machine to just six points. They had previously been averaging 24 points per game. DuVal cited defensive end Scott Ringel, defensive tackle Andy Kotter, and nose guard Fred O'Connor for great performances.

Pee Wee All Stars 20
Gagewood Pee Wee All Stars 7
Quarterback Mark Loeffler scored a pair of touchdowns in leading the Bills pee wee all stars to a 20-7 win over the Gagewood all stars last Saturday at Stevenson High School. Loeffler went 44 yards in the first quarter behind the blocking of tackle Chris Gorman. In the second quarter, back Brian Mitalo from the pee wee gold team blocked a Gagewood punt and took the ball 31 yards for the score. In the third quarter, Loeffler took off on a 53-yard sweep and the Bills third TD. This TD followed a 63 yard kickoff return by Gagewood that had cut the score to 13-7.

The defensive unit keyed by Tackle Tim Siko, Steve Wijas linebacker, and defensive end Donnie Triplett held Gagewood to five first downs.

Pee Wee Black 25
Cary Grove Feather Weights 6
The Bills pee wee black squad improved their season mark to 10-1 with a convincing 25-6 rout of the Cary Grove Trojans last Sunday at Cary Grove High School.

Back Mark Loeffler scored three TD's on runs of 38, 29, and 46 yards. Back Chris Gorman scored the other Bills TD on a hard-running 12-yard carry. Guard Jeff Adams was responsible for opening large holes to enable the Bills backs to run through. The defense held Cary to just 51 total offensive yards. Linebacker Steve Lucas, noseguard Chris Saylor, and defensive end Scott Rech played well for head coach Wally Joniec who completed his third very successful year of coaching.

Pee Wee Bills Red 13
Bills Featherweights 12
In a come-from-behind win, the Bills pee wee reds edged the pee wee featherwights 13-12 last Saturday at Stevenson High School. Halfback Tim Peterson opened the scoring for the Reds as he sprinted 35 yards for the games first TD. But the featherweights fought right back to tie the game at half 6-6 back Ray Strickland scored from the 49 yard line.

In the third quarter, Strickland intercepted a Scott Walker pass and raced 62 yards for the score, giving the featherweights a 12-6 lead. Finally the pee wee reds mounted a final scoring drive that went 33 yards in eight plays as back Jim Norton went in from the one. Norton scored the extra point and the reds held on to a 13-12 decision.

For the red unit which has now won five of its last six games, Jim DeEmo, Oscar Westgard, Mark Murphy, John Dempsey and George Kearns played well. The featherweights were keyed by standout performances of Kevin and Ken Meland, Scott Kozemzak, and halfback Jeff Adams.

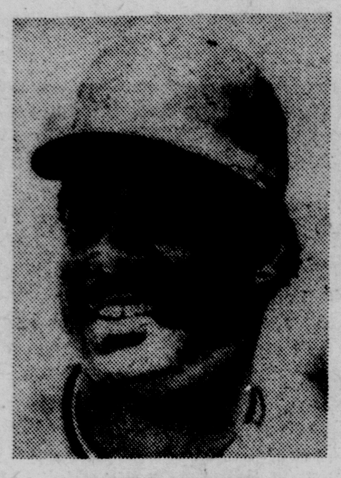
GENE TENACE



DON BAYLOR

Angels sign Baylor; Tenace joins Padres

PROVIDENCE, R. I. — Gene Tenace signed with the San Diego Padres and Don Baylor agreed to terms with the California Angels today as the three-time champion Oakland A's continued to crumble under the defection of star players.

Tenace, a catcher-first baseman, told a news conference he had signed a multi-year contract with the Padres. The announcement came one hour after it was announced by agent Jerry Kapstein that Baylor, a power-hitting outfielder, had signed with the Angels.

They become the second and third free agents to reach agreements with new clubs since the Nov. 4 free agent draft. Pitcher Bill Campbell, formerly with Minnesota, signed a multi-year contract 11 days ago with the Boston Red Sox.

"I can't predict my offensive statistics but I can guarantee to the people of San Diego that when I put a uniform on, I will give 110 per cent," Tenace said at the news conference called near Kapstein's Providence office. Unable to reach contract agreement with Finley, Tenace said, "I have a lot of respect for him and no hard feelings toward him."

American League MVP to Munson

NEW YORK — Thurman Munson, the wheelhorse of the New York Yankees' first pennant-winning season in 12 years, Tuesday was voted the American League's Most Valuable Player by the Baseball Writers Assoc. of America.

Munson, who batted .302 and drove home 102 runs-second in the league, received 18 first place votes from the 24 baseball writers participating in the balloting, four seconds and two thirds for a total of 304 points. George Brett of the Kansas City Royals was second in the voting with 217 points and Munson's teammate, Mickey Rivers, was third with 179½.

Besides achieving his second straight 100-plus RBI season, Munson, 29, also had 79 runs scored. 17 homers and 27 doubles. More significantly, however, was his 152 games played and the fact that he was the only catcher in the AL to both bat over .300 and drive in over 100 runs.

Squeakers highlight pro cage card

Tight games were the order of the night in the National Basketball Assn. Tuesday as the New York Knicks edged Atlanta, 100-97, San Antonio beat Buffalo, 114-112, New Orleans shaded Portland, 100-98 and Kansas City topped Milwaukee, 100-91.

Pete Maravich survived a second-quarter fistfight and scored 35 points to pace New Orleans. Maravich, the NBA's No. 2 scorer, had 15 of his points in the third quarter to bring New Orleans back from a 54-51 halftime deficit for its eighth win in 13 games. Bill Walton led Portland with 21 points.

Bill Bradley hit a long jumper with 1:27 left and Earl Monroe and Walt Frazier sank six free throws in the final nine seconds to lead New York to the winner's circle. The loss extended Atlanta's road losing streak to 26 games. There were five ties and seven lead changes in the fourth quarter. Tom Henderson scored a season-high 27 points for Atlanta.

Larry Kenon dropped in two free throws with two seconds remaining to lift San Antonio. Kenon finished with 25 points, 14 rebounds and three steals. Bob McAdoo spearheaded the Braves with 27 points and 16 rebounds.

Kansas City outscored Milwaukee, 15-5 early in the final quarter to boost their margin for victory. Ron Boone led the Kings with 27 while Elmore Smith and Alex English had 21 for the Bucks.

Carrubba takes World Open pin lead

Rich Carrubba took the second round lead in the $100,00 Brunswick World Open Bowling Tournament Tuesday, bringing his 16-game average to 228. Carrubba, made his total 3,655 or 130 pins better than the PBA's all-time money winner, Dick Weber of St. Louis, who is in the runnerup spot.

Bobby Cooper is third, Gary Dickinson fourth and Wayne Zahn fifth. Palatine's Les Zikes struggled to a 1,477 block for eight games and does not appear likely to make Thursday's cut.

Orange Bowl loses Pitt, Maryland

MIAMI — While Orange Bowl officials waited for top-rated Pittsburgh to decide whether to play here New Year's night, Maryland — the second choice — got tired of waiting and now both teams will play elsewhere, it was reported Tuesday.

The Miami News and the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette both quoted a Memphis source as saying Pittsburgh Coach Johny Majors believes "the only thing that can take Pitt out of the Sugar Bowl is a player revolt."

The News also said sources close to seventh-ranked Maryland, which also is unbeaten and untied, said the Terrapins will accept an invitation to play the Southwest Conference champion in the Cotton Bowl New Year's Day because of the Orange Bowl's indecision. "We decided to align ourselves with the decisiveness of the Cotton Bowl over the indecisiveness of the Orange Bowl," the source was quoted as saying.

Robert Mars intercepted and fumbles were recovered by Jim Connell (2) and Sopkins. Sopkin, Connell and John Berg had QB sacks.

Glen Ellyn 25, Rangers 13
Rich Krautter scored on a three-yard burst and Jim Berg added a two-yard sprint in the waning minutes. Berg ran for the conversion. Krautter, Matt Vlasaty and Roland Transon looked good on defense.

Bills highlights

Lightweight Bills 14, Cary Grove Trojans 0
Before a large crowd Sunday at Cary Grove the Bills finished their regular season undefeated with a 10-0-0 record and the championship of the Tri County Junior Football League. The 14-0 win over the Cary Grove Trojans was the Bills eighth shutout of the season.

The Bills wasted no time in scoring their first TD. Following a Trojan punt, QB Doug Nelson moved the Bills 43 yards in just seven plays to the Cary Grove nine. On third and four, Nelson pitched to fullback Larry Tellschow who ran over two defenders into the end zone.

The hard hitting Bills "bad news" defense produced the other TD midway in the third quarter. With a third and 11 situation for Cary at their own 27, Trojan back Jay Smith was hit hard by lineman Tellschow which produced a fumble that was picked up by guard Bobby Veternik who raced 27 yards for the score.

The defense limited Cary to 47 yards rushing as Ron Hofmeister, Rod Haslam, Jeff Albrecht, Steve Frederiksen, Jeff Peterson, along with Nelson, Tellschow, Fish, Veternik, and Brett Hardt played very well.

The Bills now travel to Columbus, Ohio for the Bi-Centennial Junior Football Classic this weekend against the Grove City Falcons — the Ohio State Champs.

Heavyweight Bills 6, Cary Grove Trojans 0
The Tri County Heavyweight championship was a mirror of the entire season for the Bills heavies as defense prevailed in a close 6-0 contest over high-scoring Cary Grove.

After a scoreless first half, when twice the Bills defense held inside their own 15 yard line, a big break occurred. Punter Tom Zeien boomed a 45-yarder down to the Cary three which was downed by flanker Darrell Andre.

For three plays Cary was stopped cold and was forced to punt from their end zone on fourth down. Zeien returned the punt 19 yards to the Grove 11. Then fine power running by backs Joe Coriaci, Steve Russell, and Zeien put the ball on the one where QB Phil Menzel took it in for the TD.

Cary didn't let up, but a pass interception by Paul Heesch, and fumble recoveries by Ken Seminick and Bryan Paull stopped three Cary drives up to the last minute of play. With just 53 seconds remaining, the Trojans attempted a "flea-flicker" play which almost worked had it not been for the game saving tackle by Tom Zeien. Time ran out with Cary on the Bills eight yard line.

Defensively, it was another great effort as Joe Furmanski, Jeff Berg, Brian Weiner and Steve Frederiksen starred. Keying the Bills second straight heavyweight title offensively was Greg Bowen, center Jeff LaCosse and game MVP Tom Zeien.

Bills Widgets 14, Portage Park 6
Rugged Portage Park of the George Halas League, got a taste of Bills football Saturday at Stevenson High School as the Bills prevailed 14-6.

The Bills defense produced the first TD of the game when linebacker Bobby Veternik stole the ball from halfback Tom Romano and ran 36 yards for the score — untouched. Good field position in the second quarter put QB Joe Molloy's offensive unit in gear on a 41-yard scoring drive that took nine plays to run. Fullback Larry Tellschow took a quick pitch to the left and went in from 11 yards out.

In the second half, the Bills kept Portage Park outside their own 30 on some good punting by Scott DuVal. The Bills controlled the second half with a good ground attack that ate up most of the clock.

Coach Paul DuVal praised the defensive 11 for holding Portage Park's high-scoring machine to just six points. They had previously been averaging 24 points per game. DuVal cited defensive end Scott Ringel, defensive tackle Andy Kotter, and nose guard Fred O'Connor for great performances.

Pee Wee All Stars 20
Gagewood Pee Wee All Stars 7
Quarterback Mark Loeffler scored a pair of touchdowns in leading the Bills pee wee all stars to a 20-7 win over the Gagewood all stars last Saturday at Stevenson High School. Loeffler went 44 yards in the first quarter behind the blocking of tackle Chris Gorman. In the second quarter, back Brian Mitalo from the pee wee gold team blocked a Gagewood punt and took the ball 31 yards for the score. In the third quarter, Loeffler took off on a 53-yard sweep and the Bills third TD. This TD followed a 63 yard kickoff return by Gagewood that had cut the score to 13-7.

The defensive unit keyed by Tackle Tim Siko, Steve Wijas linebacker, and defensive end Donnie Triplett held Gagewood to five first downs.

Pee Wee Black 25
Cary Grove Feather Weights 6
The Bills pee wee black squad improved their season mark to 10-1 with a convincing 25-6 rout of the Cary Grove Trojans last Sunday at Cary Grove High School.

Back Mark Loeffler scored three TD's on runs of 38, 29, and 46 yards. Back Chris Gorman scored the other Bills TD on a hard-running 12-yard carry. Guard Jeff Adams was responsible for opening large holes to enable the Bills backs to run through. The defense held Cary to just 51 total offensive yards. Linebacker Steve Lucas, noseguard Chris Saylor, and defensive end Scott Rech played well for head coach Wally Joniec who completed his third very successful year of coaching.

Pee Wee Bills Red 13
Bills Featherweights 12
In a come-from-behind win, the Bills pee wee reds edged the pee wee featherwights 13-12 last Saturday at Stevenson High School. Halfback Tim Peterson opened the scoring for the Reds as he sprinted 35 yards for the games first TD. But the featherweights fought right back to tie the game at half 6-6 back Ray Strickland scored from the 49 yard line.

In the third quarter, Strickland intercepted a Scott Walker pass and raced 62 yards for the score, giving the featherweights a 12-6 lead. Finally the pee wee reds mounted a final scoring drive that went 33 yards in eight plays as back Jim Norton went in from the one. Norton scored the extra point and the reds held on to a 13-12 decision.

For the red unit which has now won five of its last six games, Jim DeEmo, Oscar Westgard, Mark Murphy, John Dempsey and George Kearns played well. The featherweights were keyed by standout performances of Kevin and Ken Meland, Scott Kozemzak, and halfback Jeff Adams.

The Baron: a special kind of sports hero

Jim Murray

One of my all-time tennis, or, even, sports idols died in a car crash the other day.

It wasn't Baron Gottfriedl von Cramm's game I admitted. It was his title. I mean, I just love the idea of a real, live, legit Baron being a tennis player. And a world class one, at that. I mean, a Baron!

I SUPPOSE everybody has his favorite tennis player. Some people held out for Big Bill Tilden, playing in those long pants. Others liked Helen Wills Moody and that copy reader's eye shade. Don Budge had his followers. Later, Pancho Gonzales, Jack Kramer, Arthur Ashe and Rod Laver came along.

But me, I had a Baron! I didn't hold with those people who rejoiced when the son of a railroad engineer, or the daughter of a janitor, or an Australian sheepherder took over the game. I mean, heck! I knew lots of sons of locomotive engineers. Where I came from they were the upper class. I knew lots of daughters of janitors. In fact, I don't know how I missed marrying one. Australian sheepherders didn't impress me all that much.

But, Barons! I sure as hell didn't know any Barons. I didn't even know how you got to be one — whether you were voted into it, or appointed by the Kaiser, or just came from a long line of people who were on personal terms with God, or whether you had to fight a duel to be one.

Anyway, I became a big fan of Baron's. I didn't know whether Von Cramm played in a monocle and a brush cut or whether he had to unstrap his sword or whether he played in a spiked helmet, but I was one up on the kids on the block when it came to sports heroes. I mean I didn't go for Debs Garms or Lou Chiozza or Shanty Hogan, I went clear up to the Almanach de Gotha. You never saw any Barons on bubble-gum cards.

It was a little daring. We were in the period between wars, and even though Hitler hadn't really showed his hand yet, Germans weren't all that popular. They were still known as "Huns" and "boches." Although I never did find out what a "boche" was. I knew Von Hindenburg was one and so was Von Richthofen — a Red Boche. You see, we were barely out of the calling sauerkraut "liberty cabbage" days. Even Gezundheit" was not advisable as God bless you!

AND THE ONLY German words I knew I got from Warner Bros. "Torpedo Los!" "Schweinhund!" "Achtung" and "Fire vun!"

The Baron was really quite an elegant player. He was in the finals of Wimbledon nearly every year. Also Forest Hills. But his finest hour came in the Davis Cup interzone final at Wimbledon in 1937. Von Cramm played Donald Budge in the critical match that year. The "tie" was two matches apiece, and whoever won the singles final, Germany or the U.S., would surely beat the Cup defenders, Britain, who had lost their best player, Fred Perry, when he turned pro.

Before the match, Von Cramm was called to the telephone. The Fuehrer, no less, was on the line. He demanded victory. Von Cramm, pale and shaken, took the court. And played a blistering five-set match which he barely lost in the last set. It was a match many considered the best tennis game ever. The two players had more than 220 placements between them.

Budge went home to a ticker-tape parade. Von Cramm went home to a concentration camp. His estate was confiscated and Hitler not only stripped him of his wealth and his rank but his reputation when he charged him with "moral turpitude." It's a lousy part for George Peppard, you'll agree, but, when Von Cramm was released two years later, his tennis game had suffered — to comment on the least of his dificulties. He looked like a guy constantly waiting for a knock on the door — with a gun butt — at night.

He was shortly to be shipped to the Eastern Front by his government.

TENNIS IS NOT likely to have any more Barons in its ranks. Come to think of it, I don't know what a Baron is fit for any more — now that airplanes don't have double wings on them. Hitler might have been surprised that Budge could beat a Baron but we kids knew a Baron couldn't be any good at any sport you didn't use a machine gun or saber.

So, I rooted for poor old Von Cramm — the Lavender Baron. He filled a void in my life between the eras of Albie Booth and Sonny Jurgensen. I keep scanning the tournament seeds, hoping for a real, live, hell-clicking member of the Junkers to show up in the round of 16. Alas! A lot of Bolshevik hotheads, and long-haired boys from East St. Louis. All I had left, finally, was the Marquis de Portago. And Duke Snider.

So, auf wiedersehen, old Baron!

Michaeline Pestka wins contest on tie-breaker

Michaeline Pestka

The unpredictable college and professional football scene created some problems for over 900 entries last week in The Herald's "Pick The Winners" contest.

Michaeline Pestka, a 25-year-old dental assistant, captured the top prize with three misses, using the Alabama-Notre Dame tie-breaker to edge Matt Lawson of Arlington Heights.

Miss Pestka, who lives in Des Plaines, predicted Notre Dame would win and with 41 total points for the two teams. The Irish beat Alabama, 21-18.

THE GAMES she missed on her winning card were Michigan State at Northwestern, Texas A&M at Arkansas and New England at Baltimore.

Lawson missed Michigan State at Northwestern, Wisconsin at Indiana and Detroit at New Orleans but had Alabama winning in South Bend.

With the victory Miss Pestka receives a stadium blanket with carrying case and chance for a Rose Bowl trip for two. The Rose Bowl winner will be announced at a special luncheon Saturday, Dec. 4.

Entry blank No. 11 now appears in The Herald newspapers with a 5 p.m. deadline Friday. There are 12 weeks in the contest.

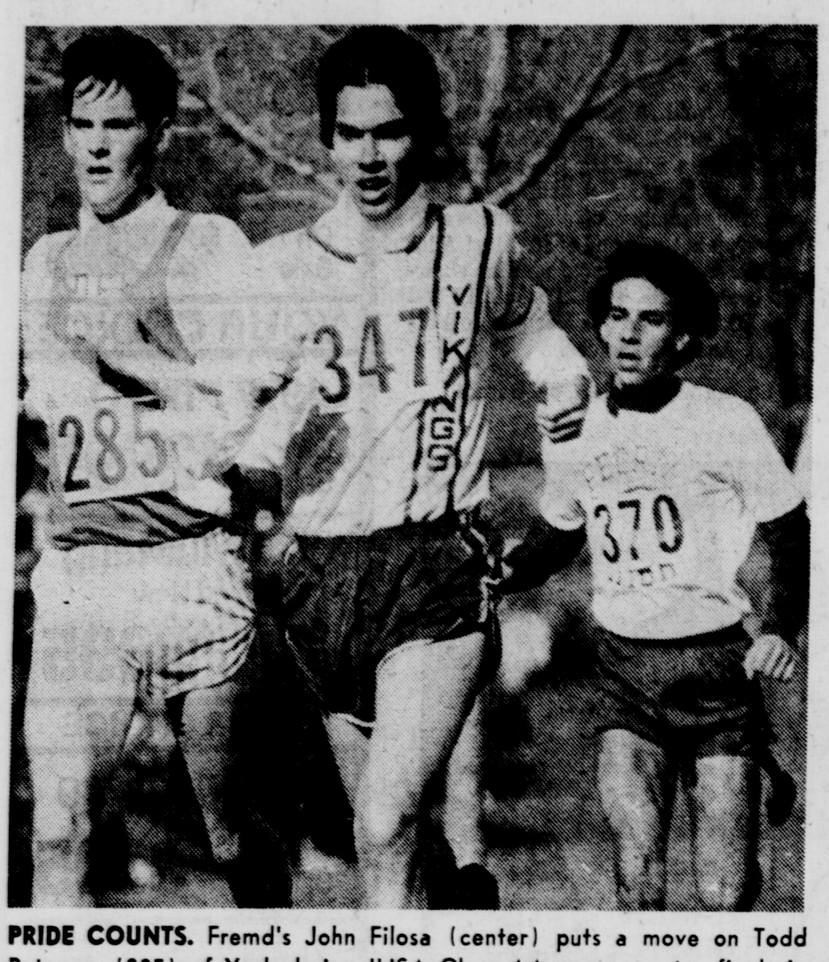
IN THE GAMES last week the results were:

Northwestern 42, Michigan State 21; Texas A&M 31, Arkansas 10; Georgia 28, Auburn 0; Colorado 40, Kansas 17; Yale 21, Harvard 7; Indiana 15, Wisconsin 14.

Purdue 21, Iowa 0; Michigan 38, Illinois 7; Ohio State 9, Minnesota 3; Chicago 24, Green Bay 13; Denver 17, San Diego 0; New Orleans 17, Detroit 16.

New England 21, Baltimore 14; Cleveland 24, Philadelphia 3; St. Louis 30, Los Angeles 28; New York Jets 34, Tampa Bay 0; Cincinnati 31, Houston 27; Pittsburgh 14, Miami 3.

The winner of contest No. 11 will be notified next Monday and the results will be published in the Wednesday Herald. Winners are not eligible for subsequent weekly contests.



PRIDE COUNTS. Fremd's John Filosa (center) puts a move on Todd Peterson (285) of York during IHSA Class AA cross-country finals in Peoria. Filosa finished 48th in the meet as Fremd took sixth in the team standings. Deerfield won the state title.

Kostelny's 253 is season's best

Ten Pin Bowl yielded a generous helping of 10-pin strikes as the Paddock Women's Classic Traveling League continued to impress followers of the finest women's bowling league in the Northwest suburbs.

Stealing the thunder for the evening was Bobbie Kostelny of league-leading Petterson Safety Service. Bobbie rolled the top individual score of the season when she uncorked a whopping 253 middle game en route to a 604 series.

The 600 total was one of three for the night as Vi Douglas hit 614 and Isobel Kosi 605 for opposing L-Tran Engineering which captured three of seven points from Petterson.

THE HIGH-SCORING, head-to-head match also included Carol Sander's 215-203—599 for Petterson, a 224 by Kosi, 213 and 209 by Douglas and 201 by Marlis Pleickhardt.

In other action, Striking Lanes blitzed Thunderbird Country Club, 7-0, Tower Cleaners almost doubled its season output with a 7-0 whitewash of Mason Shoes and Ten Pin Bowl toppled Ziebart Rustproofing of Des Plaines, 5-2.

Alice Schroder's 567-214 paced Striking Lanes to a sweep although Lu Schoenberger's 538, Judy Brumond's 524 and Eunice Whitmore's 499 figured decisively.

Dee Kachelmuss countered for Thunderbird with a 591-216, Mary Yurs fired 517 and Jean Ladd hit 511-203.

TOWER CLEANERS feasted on Jan Broderick's 534-202 and Pam Lizak's 528 to scuff Mason Shoes. Rita Buge's 513 and Peggy Wales 501 were tops for Mason.

In another slugfest, Ten Pin Bowl erupted for a 2689 which included Ethel Juenger's 573-201-203, Marge Lindenberg's 558, Betty Peterman's 552-214 and Joan Plywack's 548.

Ziebart responded behind Peggy Harris' 574-210, substitute Tiny Cazel's 537-211 and Carol Anderson's even 500.

Kostelny's 253 is season's best

Ten Pin Bowl yielded a generous helping of 10-pin strikes as the Paddock Women's Classic Traveling League continued to impress followers of the finest women's bowling league in the Northwest suburbs.

Stealing the thunder for the evening was Bobbie Kostelny of league-leading Petterson Safety Service. Bobbie rolled the top individual score of the season when she uncorked a whopping 253 middle game en route to a 604 series.

The 600 total was one of three for the night as Vi Douglas hit 614 and Isobel Kosi 605 for opposing L-Tran Engineering which captured three of seven points from Petterson.

THE HIGH-SCORING, head-to-head match also included Carol Sander's 215-203—599 for Petterson, a 224 by Kosi, 213 and 209 by Douglas and 201 by Marlis Pleickhardt.

In other action, Striking Lanes blitzed Thunderbird Country Club, 7-0, Tower Cleaners almost doubled its season output with a 7-0 whitewash of Mason Shoes and Ten Pin Bowl toppled Ziebart Rustproofing of Des Plaines, 5-2.

Alice Schroder's 567-214 paced Striking Lanes to a sweep although Lu Schoenberger's 538, Judy Brumond's 524 and Eunice Whitmore's 499 figured decisively.

Dee Kachelmuss countered for Thunderbird with a 591-216, Mary Yurs fired 517 and Jean Ladd hit 511-203.

TOWER CLEANERS feasted on Jan Broderick's 534-202 and Pam Lizak's 528 to scuff Mason Shoes. Rita Buge's 513 and Peggy Wales 501 were tops for Mason.

In another slugfest, Ten Pin Bowl erupted for a 2689 which included Ethel Juenger's 573-201-203, Marge Lindenberg's 558, Betty Peterman's 552-214 and Joan Plywack's 548.

Ziebart responded behind Peggy Harris' 574-210, substitute Tiny Cazel's 537-211 and Carol Anderson's even 500.

Taste Barrier Broken.

'Enriched Flavor'™ breakthrough ends struggle to bring taste to low tar smoking.

For years, dependency on tar for taste has created a taste barrier for low tar smoking.

Now that barrier has been broken. Broken for good by a remarkable new cigarette called MERIT.

MERIT is packed with 'Enriched Flavor' tobacco.

The result of a radical new discovery so successful at boosting flavor, MERIT actually delivers the taste of cigarettes having more tar.

Up to 60% more tar.

Yet MERIT has only 9 mg. of tar. One of the lowest tar levels in smoking today.

MERIT and MERIT MENTHOL

Tests Verify Taste

MERIT was taste-tested against current leading low tar brands ranging from 11 mg. to 15 mg. tar.

Thousands of smokers were involved. The majority report: even if the cigarette tested had up to 60% more tar than MERIT, MERIT still delivered as much—or more—taste.

You've been smoking "low tar, good taste" claims long enough.

Now smoke the cigarette.
